Introduction

1.1 Prelude

The principle that quality education could become an instrument par excellence for National Development enunciated in the Education Commission Report (1964-66), led to the emergence of standards in Indian Education. However the issue remained in the periphery until the National Policy on Education (NPE), 1986, and the subsequent Programme of Action (POA); 1992, laid great stress on reviving the quality side of education at every level. As an outcome of the ideas contained in the NPE and POA, the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) was established on 16th September 1994 as a creative idea to give positive thrust in the direction of quality enhancement of the Indian Higher Education Institutions (HEIs). Since its establishment, the impact of NAAC on the National Higher Education scenario has been direct and spontaneous. The process of quality assessment and accreditation offered an entirely different frame of reference and work, milieu for educational endeavors. NAAC's vision and mission statements reflect quality as an internal mechanism driving continuous improvement. NAAC strongly believes that assuring and ensuring quality is largely the institution's own responsibility. Quality cannot be imposed or regimented. It has to originate as a measure internal to the institution and is essentially an outcome of the institutional level initiatives. The overriding concern in quality assessment by NAAC is a means of understanding the HEI in a perspective through validation and performance evaluation of the various academic and administrative processes of the institution. NAAC has thus recognized and set its vision and mission with emphasis on building quality on the inner strengths of the functional units of the institutions themselves; which promote and cultivate enriching learning environments through planned educational processes. NAAC's ultimate goal is to develop a quality culture wherein quality consciousness and striving for excellence will become powerful internal driving forces at all levels of colleges and universities.

Look through the evolutionary stages of NAAC, it becomes evident that NAAC has been nurturing the quality of the institutions by attempting to make the whole exercise of Assessment and Accreditation (A&A) to be essentially "home grown". Quality has to be tendered with great care, supported and nurtured with the contribution of every member of the institution and the whole process has to result in a socially acknowledged and appreciable exercise.

Even the earliest initiatives of NAAC reflect the NAAC's recognition of the importance and strong need of Internal Quality Assurance Cells (IQACs) as the nurturing units of institutional quality. This is visible from the fact that NAAC's process has never been mandatory. For long it remained as a quality facilitating process and the prerogative of the HEIs to opt for assessment of their quality levels by NAAC. Unless our HEIs and their stakeholders are willing and ready to acknowledge and approve the good practices and quality levels of the institutional academic and administrative processes; the quality culture is destined to be swallowed by waves emanating from an ocean of mediocrity. Despite the various hurdles (real or imagined) if a symbiotic relationship could be established among HEIs, various agencies and the society as a whole, surely Quality Assurance can be ensured. If HEIs can discharge their rightful responsibilities, they can legitimately feel proud of accolades and appreciation for quality achievement. This is the type of paradigm shift that NAAC has been pioneering since its inception through the promotion of IQACs.

It is a fact that a large chunk of Indian institutions that have little exposure to modern management practices and newer developments look up to agencies like NAAC to guide them build their Quality Assurance (QA) Systems. To meet the expectations of such institutions, NAAC recommended the establishment of IQACs in each college and make them functional. As part of such initiative by NAAC, guidelines were drawn way back in the year 2002 to enable HEIs to initiate and establish IQACs to achieve Quality and ensure Quality sustenance and enhancement. (Besides suggesting the composition of IQACs with ample representation from stakeholders, local community, academic, administrative and management components, NAAC has also provided the reporting templates to guide the institutions in effective functioning of the IQAC. As NAAC evolved and matured over its 16 years of existence, constantly striving to contribute to the quality improvement of the dynamic, complex and diverse Indian HE system, the HEIs ecology also underwent dramatic changes. In its nascent years, NAAC promulgated IQACs as a post accreditation initiative and built it into the Minimum Institutional Requirements(MIRs) for HEIs while opting for re-accreditation. (Experiences of these institutions strengthened the belief of NAAC that it is the IQACs of the HEIs which will provide direction and help in pooling the institution's collective endeavor to constantly and consistently move forward enhancing credibility of the educational process they are engaged in. (The increasing pressure on the HEIs to prove their response to change and thirst for excellence and quality changed the institutional approaches to quality. This led NAAC to re-look at its processes in a prospective manner and since 2007 (when NAAC has adopted the current methodology), establishment of the IQACs in every HEIs has become a prerequisite for A&A process. NAAC's assessment now puts ample thrust not just on the existence of an IQAC but on the performance of IQACs and the functional IQAC is one of the important evaluatory aspect in the A&A process of NAAC.

An important outcome of the IQAC's is the Annual Quality Assurance Report (AQAR) which is a compilation of the initiatives and their impact on the quality of the institutions. The AQARs also serve the purpose of reporting and showcasing the functioning of the institution to the regulatory and funding agencies and accountability to the stakeholders. Now it is also mandated that the accredited institutions submit the AQAR, to NAAC. Apart from the various functions mentioned earlier the AQARs are also used by the institutions as advocacy and propagatory material. NAAC is striving hard to evaluate the AQARs and guide institutions to achieve quality and excellence. Once these reports are posted on the website, stakeholders would look the external and internal benchmarking besides attract the feedback from the stakeholders. They can be used for introspection and continuous improvement by the faculty. Quality can thrive only with collective efforts of the stakeholders. Such a paradigm is what NAAC aims at to lay a clear path for quality culture and excellence.

It goes without saying that Internal Quality Assurance and A&A by NAAC are two inseparable sides of the same coin. The failure to make them work-in unison will lead to mistrust and collapse of the system. Quality Assurance is a positive, collective and inclusive approach to ensure effectiveness in the institutional processes. NAAC expects the IQACs to become an integral part of the overall functioning of the institutions and evolve their own internal process to continuously ensure the quality concern in their functions. It is the expectation of NAAC and every agency involved in higher education that through self conviction IQACs work towards transforming the institution and ensure that HEIs will continuously surge ahead in pursuit of excellence.

At present, the success of NAAC is measured by the number of Colleges (4094) and Universities (159) assessed and accredited. At a more philosophical level, the next question would be: who will assess the assessor? A complex question like this demands introspection on the part of NAAC, hence NAAC has tried to address the issue by inviting feedback from different stakeholders, both formal and informal, to make course corrections and carry forward. It is further worthwhile to get attestation by the international community of assessment and accreditation undertaken by NAAC.

The impact that the NAAC has made on Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) is evident from the number of quality assurance seminars and workshops that have been conducted in the year 2009-2010 in order to achieve its objectives. Hitherto, the NAAC has conducted awareness programs in almost all States and this has triggered many regional level and district level activities.

The process of assessment and accreditation has created a tremendous momentum among the academia on issues pertaining to quality and this has largely been due to the successful partnership between NAAC and the State governments. As per the guidelines and suggestions of NAAC, all the 28 States, have established State Level Quality Assurance Cells (QACs) and State Level Quality Assurance Coordination Committees (SLQACCs) at the State Level.

In case of National Capital Territory and 6 union Territories i.e., NCT of Delhi, Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Chandigarh, Dadra and Nagar Haveli, Daman and Diu, Lakshadweep, and Pondicherry, the colleges are minimal, hence the Directorate/ Commissionerate of Higher Education of the respective UTs take care.

NAAC has sponsored and participated in many seminars, conferences and workshops in order to achieve its mandate. From 1st April 2007 onwards, NAAC had requested and encouraged all HEIs to establish IQACs, not only in the accredited institutions as part of the Minimum Institutional Requirements, but all. As a result of this as on 31st March 2010, around 70% of the accredited colleges and accredited universities have established Internal Quality Assurance Cells (IQACs). Also Affiliated/Constituent Colleges volunteering for Assessment for the first time, NAAC encourages them to establish a functional IQAC as part of Institutional Eligibility for Quality Assessment (IEQA).

NAAC is the member of the International Quality Assurance Agencies in Higher Education (INQAAHE) and a founder-member of Asia-Pacific Quality Network (APQN).

3 Academic Activities

3.1 Introduction

The prime agenda of NAAC is to assess and accredit Institutions of Higher Learning. During the year 2009-2010, NAAC has assessed and accredited 441 HEIs which include 236 Colleges for Accreditation; 1 College for Re-Assessment; 175 Colleges for Re-Accreditation; and 11 Universities for Accreditation; 18 Universities for Re-Accreditation (kindly see annexure 7.4).

NAAC is in constant collaboration with the State Governments by establishing Quality Assurance Cell (QAC) and State Level Quality Assurance Coordination Committee (SLQACC) in each State. All 28 States have established QAC and NAAC is supporting this endeavor. This Cell primarily focuses on the preparation of the Colleges to undergo the processes of assessment and accreditation. Many quality improvement programmes have been organized jointly by NAAC and QAC of States for Colleges.

The vision, mission and core objectives of the NAAC as stated are Quality Assurance in Higher Education. Assessment and Accreditation is the tool in reaching these objectives. NAAC academic activities may be viewed at two levels one is the Awareness programmes on Assessment and Accreditation and the other is the Post Accreditation Programmes. The awareness / promotional programmes mainly explain the policy, direction and guidelines of MHRD, UGC and NAAC for Assessment and Accreditation. The post accreditation activities on quality sustenance and quality enhancement are by means of sharing of Best Practices and preparing an Annual Quality Assurance Report (AQAR) by the functional Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) in each accredited College and University.

A programme or an activity may be a seminar, conference, workshop, symposium at the local, state, regional, national or international level. These activities are organized by NAAC in collaboration with the State Governments, QACs, UGC-Academic Staff Colleges, Universities, or Colleges. Some of the activities are conducted by NAAC at the Headquarters itself (kindly see section 3.2). In addition to this NAAC also sponsors many academic activities in the form of seminars, workshops, conferences, etc to accredited Higher Education Institutions (HEIs). Either a NAAC staff or NAAC representative is present as a resource person in most of the programmes across the country. NAAC also constantly reviews its mechanisms, procedures and methodology. In addition to this NAAC brings out quality publications in collaboration with International agencies, research projects funded by external agencies and NAAC academic staff participate in these activities.

NAAC regularly attends to International and National Quality Assurance Agencies for sharing and exchange of practices (kindly see section 3.7 and annexure 7.3).

A select brief of the academic activities across the country during the period 2009-2010 is given below in the chronological order region-wise (kindly see section 3.3 to 3.6).

Role of NAAC in Changing Scenario of HE

A Brainstorming Session on the "Role of NAAC in the Changing Scenario of Higher Education" was held at NAAC Campus on 11th September 2009. Prof. Yashpal, former Chairperson of UGC chaired the day long proceedings. Prof. H.A. Ranganath, Director, NAAC welcomed the academic luminary which included Prof. M. Anandakrishnan, Prof. Pankaj Chandra, Prof. Apoorvananda, Prof. R.G. Harshe, Prof. S.P. Thyagarajan, Prof. A.M. Pathan, Prof. K.C.

Belliappa, Prof. Vijay Khole, Dr. R. S. Deshpande, Prof. R.K. Kale, Prof. A. Sridharan, Prof. S. Chandrasekhar Shetty, Prof. R.C. Sobti, Dr. Latha Pillai, Prof. B.G. Mulimani, Dr. N. Sundararajan, Prof. S. Chandrasekar, Sri. N.V. Satyanaranana who were part of the proceedings. NAAC academic staff Dr. M. S. Shyamsundar, Dr. K. R. Rama, Mr. B.S. Madhukar, Dr. Jagannath Patil, Mr. B.S. Ponnudiraj, Dr. Ganesh Hegde, Dr. Sujatha Shanbhag were part of the day long discussions and deliberations. Prof. H. A. Ranganath, Director, NAAC presented an overview of NAAC's genesis and its evolution since its inception in 1994. He discussed at length the contributions of NAAC in promoting the concept of assessment and accreditation of HEIs in the country.

Prof. Ranganath described the various strategies adopted by NAAC to provide a leadership to the quality movement in the context of HEIs. He threw light on the initiatives of NAAC towards enhancement and sustenance of quality in HEIs, in-house expertise, presence of huge quantum of resources in terms of literature on quality assurance with over 125 publications, Journals, Self-Study Reports, Peer Team Reports, research projects in progress, as well as about the new projects to be initiated shortly and NAAC's linkages with international bodies related to assessment and accreditation. He also made a mention of the plans that are the NAAC's anvil.

Prof. M. Anandkrishnan through his Power Point Presentation reviewed the concept of assessment and accreditation in national and international contexts. He further touched upon various proposals made by Prof. Yashpal Committee and National Knowledge Commission. He emphasized on the pioneering contribution of NAAC in building up quality movement in HEIs and keeping in view of the expertise, infrastructure and rich resources of NAAC, he opined that the proposed office of National Accreditation Authority (NAA) needs to be located in Bangalore at NAAC instead of starting afresh at Delhi.

Prof. S. P. Thyagarajan appreciated the contributions of NAAC and its credibility. He threw light on the role of NAAC and contextual future role of NAAC.

Prof. Yash Pal appreciated the efforts made by NAAC in the field of quality assurance and appreciated the academic and administrative ambience at the NAAC campus. He also endorsed the view that the proposed office of National Accreditation Authority (NAA) needs to be located in Bangalore at NAAC office. The major recommendation of the brainstorming session echoed by all the delegates including Prof. Yash Pal is that the proposed office of National Accreditation Authority (NAA) needs to be headquartered in Bangalore at NAAC campus. NAAC is the leading Assessment & Accreditation resource centre, having adequate infrastructure facilities, substantial experience and expertise in the field of Assessment & Accreditation.

The other observations/recommendations from the brainstorming session are as given below:

- NAAC has done a reasonably good job in the field of Assessment & Accreditation with greater credibility.
- Social diversities including gender and location aspects may be taken into consideration for future Accreditation exercises.
- The idea of private accreditation agencies should be discouraged but the members were not averse to multiple accreditation agencies.
- The assessment and accreditation methodology of NAAC needs to be strengthened.

Role of NAAC in the changing scenario of higher education needs to be redefined with respect to recognition cum accreditation, programme accreditation, national level ranking of universities, preparation of national benchmarks, national and international database, research and development centre, developing reports and policy papers to Government of India (GOI), accreditation of multiple accreditation agencies, recognition of regional / state level accreditation bodies etc. Assessment & Accreditation by NAAC may be made mandatory for all HEIs of the country.

- NAAC may start programme accreditation.
- Ranking of institutions may not be very much relevant when compared to grading.
- All accreditation agencies including NAAC are to be accredited once in three years.
- While NAAC could be accredited by recognized international accreditation bodies, NAAC could perform this function for all the multiple accreditation agencies getting recognized by Government of India (GOI).
- NAAC grading and duration of accreditation may be linked and longer period of accreditation may be considered for the 3rd cycle of institutional accreditation.
- NAAC needs to continue to be an Apex Assessment & Accreditation body for Higher Education Institutions in the country providing vision and leadership.

PROJECTS IN PROGRESS

(a) NAAC Index/Ranking

National Consultative Meeting on Development of Quality Benchmarks - In line with our continued efforts to fine-tune the assessment methodology and as suggested by Chairman-EC, NAAC a project on benchmarking and new ranking model for Indian higher education institutions has been undertaken by NAAC. First National consultative meeting on “Development of Quality Benchmarks was held on 8th September, 2009. 11 eminent experts participated in the meeting along with Director and academic staff of NAAC. 7 groups of 2 experts each along with a facilitator from NAAC were assigned 7 criteria for preparation of draft guidelines under respective criterion. The first outcome of this project is the finalization of Guidance notes to fine-tune the process of Assessment and accreditation. At present NAAC assess HEIs based on 7 criteria with 36 Key Aspects consisting of 196 assessment indicators. NAAC receives feedback and suggestions from different stakeholders regarding improvements and refinements of the process of assessment and accreditation. While the existing methodology will continue to remain in force until it is modified, based on the feedback, it was felt that there is a need to provide certain guidance notes to the members of the peer team committees as well as to the NAAC staff to enhance rigour and objectivity to the assessment and accreditation process. In this regard, for quantification purpose, out of 196 indicators, 25 indicators each have been chosen/identified as core and desirable indicators, for which additional information may also be sought from the institution for the assessment period. These suggestions are for Universities only.

(b) Programme Accreditation

Introduction of programme accreditation has been on the agenda of the NAAC for quite a long time. Now that there has been an increased demand from the stakeholders, especially from the students, to have reliable information about the quality of programmes in the university, the NAAC has initiated a new project in this regard. Hence NAAC is inviting suggestions on possible strategy and framework for undertaking programme accreditation in universities. NAAC would like to focus on:

1. Measurable "Generic parameters" common to all the departments of an university (Part A).
2. Development of quantifiable "Programme-specific standards" to measure the performance of departments. This could vary from one department to the other (Part B).

NAAC-IEEE

Future Plans for 2010-2011

In the third year of the XI plan period 2009-2010 onwards NAAC has planned achievable targets for the forthcoming year 2010-2011. Based on the experience of last 16 years of its operations, and keeping in view the future expectations of stakeholders, the NAAC has developed and initiated its Roadmap for the XI Plan, from the 1st of April 2007. With a tough mandate to assess and accredit institutions of higher learning in the country, the NAAC came into existence in the year 1994 as an autonomous institution of the UGC. Since then, the NAAC has been committed to the mission of upholding maintenance of standards and quality enhancement of higher education in the country. The viewpoint of NAAC has been an enabling effort, wherein all constituents of a higher educational institution will be empowered to make best use of its available resources and intellect, thereby ushering in systemic quality assurance mechanism.

As required by a vibrant quality assurance agency, the NAAC has been continuously fine-tuning its assessment and accreditation methodologies to reach out to the target institutions, to achieve notable recognition and wider acceptance. The methodology has been fine-tuned from time to time considering the prevailing higher education scenario and feedback from stakeholders.

It was an uphill task for NAAC to take up the Assessment and Accreditation of such mammoth number of Higher Educational Institutions (HEIs) in India. NAAC had to devise strategies and work around the clock to create Quality Culture among all the stakeholders.

It required great commitment and conviction on the part of the NAAC staff to motivate the people in the higher echelons of decision making to see the point of necessity that educational institutions are assessed by an outside agency like NAAC. Keeping in tune with its mission and vision, NAAC has accredited 4253 Higher Education Institutions. It has a huge database of expert assessors on its panel and a good number of resource persons to spread quality culture among institutions

A new methodology was introduced in 1st April 2007, as per this methodology, the higher education institutions are assessed and accredited in a two-step approach. In the first step, the institution is required to see 'Institutional Eligibility for Quality Assessment (IEQA) and the second step is the assessment and accreditation of the institution. NAAC has identified seven criteria - i. Curricular Aspects, ii. Teaching-learning and Evaluation, iii. Research, Consultancy and Extension, iv. Infrastructure and Learning resources, v. Student Support and Progression, vi. Governance and leadership and vii. Innovative Practices as the basis for its evaluation and validation.

National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) continuously endeavours to strengthen its Assessment and Accreditation methodology. It also continues to explore new avenues in the field of Quality Assurance. The methodology of NAAC has evolved over 16 years and has undergone several changes based on feedback from stakeholders to match pace with changing higher education scenario. In keeping with this tradition, NAAC has initiated stakeholder consultation process on a few key issues for future.

1. The methodology of NAAC has stood the test of time for last 16 years mainly because it has remained dynamic and responsive to the stakeholder feedback. The recently fine-tuned methodology effective from 1st April, 2007 has been operational for about 3 years and NAAC has received various suggestions and comments from the assessors, institutions as well as NAAC staff and authorities. There is a felt need to introduce more quantifiable parameters in order to strengthen the elements of objectivity and transparency in the process of grading. In view of this, NAAC has decided to invite suggestions to make the present methodology more robust and objective.
2. By 2010, the NAAC enters into another challenging phase, when it needs to handle accreditation of variety of institutions such as institutions for 1st accreditation, for 2nd cycle accreditation (re-accreditation) as well as for 3rd cycle accreditation. NAAC had done extensive consultations and research while introducing 2nd cycle (re-accreditation) a few years back. Now that a good number of institutions are getting ready for the 3rd cycle, NAAC has requested stakeholders for suggestions for appropriate strategies to be evolved to meet this challenge.
3. NAAC is inviting suggestions on possible strategy and framework for undertaking programme accreditation in universities.

NAAC has requested feedback and comments from all stakeholders including assessors, heads of institutions, teachers, policy makers as well as students on the abovesaid plans.

Broadly the NAAC would focus on the following activities during the year 2009-2010 which includes the continuation of current activities as well as venturing into the new areas:

to continue

1. Assessment and accreditation exercise which is the prime agenda
2. The development of a pool of trained Assessors'
3. Dissemination of best practices amongst HEIs

6. Supporting Accredited Universities and Colleges for quality sustenance and enhancement activities.
7. Bringing out research publications
8. Bringing out case studies – state specific quality gaps based on accredited institutions data which may help the respective state
9. Bringing out thematic publication on the current trend of assessment and accreditation
10. Organizing the NAAC Accreditation Award Ceremony
11. Celebrating the foundation day of NAAC
12. Capacity building exercises for its staff
13. Assistants with fellowships for specific projects
14. Steps for NAAC Ranking Model
15. Programme accreditation

new areas

16. Modus operandi for third cycle of assessment and accreditation
17. Discussions on Department/Programme Accreditation
18. To develop quality indicators for Universities
19. To initiate steps for Benchmarking
20. To recruit project assistants with fellowships for specific projects

21. To promote 'in house' Research Journal on Quality Assurance
22. To initiate discussions on International Accreditation.

As stated in the previous year 2008-2009 future plans for 2009-2010, to review the Organization Structure, in light of the MoA and Bye-Laws, has been done. NAAC could envisage the abovesaid plans with the help of the MHRD; the UGC; Prof. Sukhadeo Thorat, Chairman, UGC and President of the General Council of NAAC; Prof. Goverdhan Mehta, Chairman of the Executive Committee of NAAC; members of the GC, EC, FC, AC, other NAAC committees, all staff of NAAC; and the academia who have contributed significantly to the development of NAAC.
