PREFACE

Sustainable Development Goals 2030 is giving much importance to 'Gender Equality'. Women empowerment is very much essential to achieve the goals of poverty alleviation, total literacy and health. Women had been ostracized and being denied justice by the patriarchal societies in our State for a long time. The violence activities, the defamatory comments, inappropriate behaviour and sexual assaults against women are still prevailing covertly and overtly in every nook and cranny of our Society. Empowering women is the only solution for all questions and it is also an aid to help women to achieve equality with men or, to reduce gender gap considerably. Women contribute a lot directly or indirectly for the economic and social development of our State. For this, our Government has implemented a number of schemes and programmes through the Social Justice Department and other departments and agencies to trim down gender discrimination and to uplift them to live with self-respect and to improve economic status of the women.

The Gender Equality and Women Empowerment (GEWE) Policy was approved by the Government of Kerala on 16th April 2015 to strengthen gender equality and women empowerment in the State .For the smooth implementation of this scheme in our State, a reliable database would be needed. Being the nodal agency for data collection and co-ordination in our State, the Department of Economics and statistics has been assigned to do this task and to put this issue in the spotlight. The Report on Gender Statistics 2016-17 has touched upon an array of topics such as violence against women, economic empowerment, leadership & participation, health, education etc. I am pretty sure that this report would be the cornerstone of the whole women oriented research programmes and it helps our Government to carry out women empowerment activities.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Sri.Babu.P.V, Additional Director (General), who has not only played a decisive role, but also stood through thick and thin for bringing this report out and I also express my sincere thanks to all Officers and Staff of the Publication division who have played hard behind the scenes in preparation of this report .I would also acknowledged the significant contribution extended by various Government Departments bringing out this Publication.

I hope the report will be useful to planners, Policymakers and researchers and other data users.

Feedbacks for improvement are most welcome.

Message

I am happy to note that the report on Gender Statistics for 2016-17 prepared by the Directorate of Economics and Statistics has touched upon most topics which are significant from the gender perspective—data on economic empowerment of women, women's participation in various fields, status of health and education of women have been presented in the Report. The Report presents figures on the negative picture too – data on gender discrimination and violence against women has been enumerated.

The State Government has been taking a number of initiatives to achieve gender parity in the social, economic and political arena and to reduce gender discrimination. This report, which gives sex-disaggregated data and more, throws light on areas where progress is made, provides evidence of what works, and reveals gaps where further efforts are needed.

I congratulate the Director General and the officials of the Department of Economics and Statistics who have done a commendable job in compiling this Report.

Dr. Sharmila Mary Joseph

Introduction

Gender Statistics 2016-17 is one of the major initiatives of the department of Economics and Statistics in the area of social sector statistics. The State has given equal opportunities to our girls and women in the education and health sectors .But Women participation in the economic realm and in decision making in the public sphere is still low. Progress in Gender Equality and Women empowerment will be accessed by three dimensions, namely (1) Security and freedom from violence (2) Strengthened women's access, ownership and control over resources and capabilities and (3) Enhanced participation and voice of women in formal as well as informal social , political and economic institutions. The Gender Equality and Women Empowerment (GEWE) policy has approved by Government of Kerala in 2015 to strengthen Gender Equality and Women Empowerment in the State. The Gender Equality and Women empowerment policy throw light on the need of Gender Planning and Gender Budgeting which widely accepted as an approach to gender mainstreaming by recognizing gender inequalities which hampering economic growth and hindering social progress.

In 2015, Gender Equality and Women Empowerment (GEWE) Policy, a gender analysis has been carried out based on sex disaggregated or gender related data which is considered as the basic input for effective planning and budgeting. In the preliminary stage all available gender based data has been collected and disaggregated at district level . A regular system has to be evolved for updation of data and expand the coverage area. Gender statistics 2016-17 is the third publication in this series presented based on secondary data sources covering the following eleven chapters. Population and related Statistics, Health Statistics, Literacy and Education, Participation in Economy, Industries sector , Agriculture and Allied activities , Participation in decision making, Crime and Conviction, Welfare of SC /ST, and Details of Beneficiaries under various Schemes.

Chapter -1

Population and Related Statistics

POPULATION

Gender composition of the population is one of the primary demographic characteristics of human population. Among the States of India, population size of Kerala is 2.76 % of the total population of the country. According to 2011 Census the population of the State 3.34 Crores, of which the respective count of male and female population are 1.60 Crores and 1.74 Crores .Women population constitute 52.02 percent of the total population in the State and the female population outnumbered by 13 lakhs over male population.

As per 2011 Census report Population growth rate in the state is declining due to increasing mean age at marriage, family planning acceptance and fertility control, decline in mortality and population mobility. With Kerala registering the lowest growth rate of population in the last decade, the State is all set to reach "zero population growth" in the coming decades. The decadal growth rate of the State is about 4.90 %. In terms of population density, Kerala with 860 persons per sq. km., is nearly two and a half times more than that of the national average of 382 per Sq km.

The population characteristics of the State is unique and almost half of the total population of Kerala is residing in urban area. 1,59,34,926 of the total population are from urban areas and rural population constitutes 1,74,71,135 persons. Sex ratio in the State is also encouraging and positive indicator of gender equality .Sex ratio in Kerala maintains to be Woman friendly and it is the only State in the country where this excess has grown consistently during the last couple of decades .The sex ratio for Kerala is 1084 against national figure of 940. Kerala is the only Indian State where the sex ratio has historically been above the national trend. Another significant feature of the State is that all districts in Kerala show similar and positive sex ratio. The reasons for highest sex ratio in Kerala are better health, high literacy rate among women and better standard of living when compared to other States of India.

Participation in Manufacturing and Service Sector

Industries Sector

Industries Sector is playing its due role in the economic development of the State and in generating employment opportunities for the unemployed youth. Kerala, with all its limitation, is putting efforts for speedy Industrial Development in the State.

Although Women constitute half of the population, involvement of Women in entrepreneurial sector is few. Majority of the working Women were engaged in the unorganized sector as casual or low profile job.

Micro Small and Medium Enterprises sector is fast emerging income generating & employment providing sector with relatively lower capital cost and also help in industrialization of rural & backward areas, targeting various social groups like SC, ST, Women, Youth, Physically Handicapped etc. Thereby, reducing social/regional imbalances, assuring more equitable distribution of income and wealth. Women participation in business has considered as a major indicator of gender development. The remarkable growth of Women enterprises in Kerala is largely due to the implementation of Women Industries programme that offers various types of financial incentives offered to MSME units started by Women. It not only gives them an independent income but also provides self-reliance and social status. Promotion of self -employment of educated Women has additional advantage of creating more jobs for aspiring educated Women. Self- employed Women enterprises are creating employment particularly for Women in Rural area and uplift economic and social status of Women.

Responsibility of ABC Micro Enterprise of Kudumbashree Mission shall include management and support to the ABC Programme of the Local bodies under respective area. It shall include capturing or hired capturing of stray dogs from identified area, transportation of dogs captured to the identified institution for A B C Programme, required Pre and Post Operative Care (surgery will be done in identified veterinary hospital by surgeon) for the animals and safe release of the animal back as per law. The activity of the MU will be based on the Standard operating procedure approved by the Executive Director of Kudumbashree.

Women in Small Scale Sector

In Kerala, growth of Women enterprises in SSI/MSME sector is remarkable. This is a positive sign of Women empowerment and gender equity. Women owned SSI/ MSME units are increasing at a rate faster than the general growth rate in the Small Scale Industrial sector of the State and the trend continues since 1990-91.

Industrial Cooperative societies.

Cooperative sector is considered as the best type of organization which provides group entrepreneurship and departmental control. The Self Help Groups promoted by Local Governments forms a thrust for the promotion of cooperative units in the Women sector.

Moreover, Kerala has the highest proportion of Women in manufacturing sector, mainly because Women have historically dominated industries like coir, cashew, bamboo and handloom and to some extent fish-processing. All the traditional industries are facing serious threat due to unfair terms of trade and substitution of machine-made and synthetic products. Due to adverse effects of both exogenous and endogenous situations female workforce in the unorganized manufacturing sector in Kerala has been at a disadvantage. It is evident that the household industry sector, largely comprising of cashew, coir and to some extent handlooms has witnessed a very sluggish growth of around one percent during the inter-censal period.

In the private sector, the tea industry, which is dominated in Wayanad and Idukki districts, continue to be the few existing industries where female employment is predominant. In fact, the existence of tea industry has been the main reason of the high levels of female economic activity and high female workforce participation rate in these two districts.

The interventions initiated after the formation of Kerala State Bamboo Mission include promoting cultivation of bamboo, creation of new designs for innovative products in the handicrafts sector along with appropriate skill development, promotion of bamboo based modern industries supported by technology adaptation and development. It is expected that this will bring in greater business opportunities at various levels, especially among Women and hence improve the living standards of the rural people, there by contributing to the overall growth of the sector.

Chapter- VI

Agriculture and Allied Activities

Agriculture and Allied Activities

Agriculture has been historically the mainstay of Kerala economy and traditionally, the most significant sector of Female employment, especially in the rural areas. However, it is evident from the census figures that women cultivators and agricultural laborers together account for 17.2 percent of the Female workforce as per 2011 Census. The nature and extent of women participation in agriculture varies from region to region.

Agriculture is no longer the main channel of employment among the Kerallite women. Only 3.7 per cent and 13.5 percent of Female main workers are from cultivators and agricultural labourers respectively. It is apparent that there has been a large-scale shift in Female labourers, particularly wage labour in agriculture. Female oriented labour activity in agriculture was mainly confined to the cultivation of food-crops, particularly paddy. Some activities in paddy cultivation, such as transplanting, weeding and harvesting are gradually give way for mechanisation.

Being highly market sensitive in nature and owing to more liberalized norms of international trade and commerce since 1991, had prompted large scale switch over to commercial, perennial and annual crops like Rubber, Banana, coconut, condiments and spices etc. As fallout Female wage labour has thus been largely replaced by hired Male labour, mostly from migrant agricultural labourers.

Fisheries sector also occupies a very important place in the socio-economic development of the State. Kerala is also blessed with a large number of water bodies' fresh water and brackish water- rivers, interconnected backwaters (Kayals), estuaries & backwaters. The State is also endowed with vast resources in terms of ponds & tanks, rivers & canals, reservoirs, lakes and other water bodies having immense scope for development of fisheries to strengthen the food security, generate employment opportunities and earn foreign exchange with the ultimate objective of improving the socio economic status of fishers and other people engaged in the sector.

Fishing has been the primary source of livelihood in the coastal province of Kerala. The fisherwomen in Kerala play an important role in the fisheries sector in terms of their involvement in fishery related activities viz., fish vending, fish drying, prawn peeling, sorting, grading, fish packing, and net making. The role of women in the economic activities of coastal fishing communities supplements the region's livelihood. Women are usually engaged in the processes that begin with the arrival of fresh catch on the beaches and end in the markets.

Chapter –VII

Participation in Decision Making

Women's Participation in Decision Making

To measure Women's empowerment, Gender Empowerment measurement (GEM) takes three indicators, Women's participation in economic, political and professional activities. Within political power what is measured is mainly Women in parliament, judiciary or in local bodies. It is also now often pointed out that Women's empowerment consider Women's awareness, consciousness, choices with live alternatives, resources at their disposal, voice, agency and participation. These are all related to enhancement of Women's capabilities and decisions they take individually or collectively for themselves. Women representation is limited and inadequate in political parties, trade unions and in other positions of political power as well as in decision making processes in professional bodies. Women representation both in mass organizations and high level committees of political parties is not up to the expected level.
