PREFACE

This study presents an analysis of trends in respect of Indian students and Trainees who went abroad and Foreign Students who arrived in India, for higher studies during 1998-99. Basic data for the study was collected from the Reserve Bank of India and the Association of Indian Universities.

The purpose in bringing out this publication is to maintain the statistical records of Indian Students / Trainees going abroad under various schemes of higher studies in order to acquire the latest know-how in various fields like Agriculture, Technology, Science, Medicine, Education, etc. Efforts have been made to compare the number of Indian students in foreign countries with those of foreign students in Indian Universities in 1998-99. This publication gives statistics of outflow of Indian students/Trainees state-wise, duration-wise, sex-wise, subject-wise, country-wise etc. In addition, it also gives information about sources of financial assistance, country-wise, agency-wise etc. Besides, this publication also contains statistics of students from foreign countries in Indian Universities with continent-wise, country-wise, sex-wise, subject-wise break up.

I would like to place on record my appreciation of the team spirit and the work done by the Project Staff under Mr. S.S.Shokeen , Joint Director (Planning) of the Statistics Division, CMIS Unit in bringing out this useful publication. I am also grateful to the Reserve Bank of India, Bombay and the Association of Indian Universities for supplying us valuable data for this publication.

It is hoped that this study will be of interest and use to educational planners, administrators and research workers in the field of education. It is our constant endeavour to improve the coverage as well as presentation of this publication based on the feedback from the users. Further suggestions, if any, for improving the publication are always welcome and may be sent to Shri S.S.Shokeen, Joint Director (Plg.) in this Department.

INTRODUCTION

Indian students going abroad are most effective ambassadors of our culture, ideals and thoughts. The Indian students going abroad are helpful in promoting our culture, intellectual enrichment and foster mutual understanding abroad.

After independence Indian scholars, students and universities established close links with the developed countries. Exchange of faculty and collaboration became common with many developed countries. Many Indian students went abroad especially to the United States and United Kingdom for higher education studies.

The major developments in Higher Education during the last decade are shift from teacher-centered instruction to student centered learning. There has been an internationalization of Higher Education through institutional linkage, increase in student's mobility and offering of large number of programmes across international boundaries. Internationalization of Higher Education today has been promoted in all countries because of the academic, social, political and economic advantages that accrue from it. It promotes values and culture, generates good will, enrich the teaching-learning process and thereby enhances the quality of education, encourages competitiveness and help to generate financial resources. Therefore internationalization of higher education is a fact of life that cannot be neglected. This has enabled our students to be well versed not only with the national issues but also with the global issues. In the coming years the International experience will be an added value and perhaps one of the necessary requirement in student's portfolio.

India has the second largest network of Higher Education in the World and the third largest reserve of technical and scientific manpower. It can be heaven for students of the developing countries who would prefer to come to India because the education and maintenance cost are low as compared to the western countries, English is the medium of instruction, cultural environment is similar and education as per the needs of their country.

In order to attract foreign students, Indian higher education system should be so designed as to become a powerful career for the best of the heritage and it should, therefore, aim at transmitting to the new generations the lessons of accumulated experiences of the past. It should offers solutions to the existing problems and innovates to avoid the problems of future and is expected to contribute to raising the overall quality of life worldwide whether it is economic, political or social field.

1. STUDENTS/TRAINEES IN DIFFERENT CONTINENTS:

The total number of Indian students who went abroad for higher studies marginally increased 6466 in 1991-92 to 6499 (0.51%) in 1992-93 steeply decreased to 2284 (64.86%) students in 1993-94 over the previous year and then appreciably improved to 2983 (30.60%) students during the year 1994-95 and further increased to 3478 (16.59%) in 1995-96. This increasing trend continued in 1996-97 when it substantially increased to 6426 (84.76%) and 6734 (4.79%) in 1997-98 and further increased to 6918 students (2.73%) in 1998-99 over the previous year. Year-wise/continent-wise details are given below in Sub-Table 1:

Sub-Table: 1

It will be observed from the above that the percentage of Indian students to countries in the American continent has been on the decrease since 1991-92 to 1997-98. In the year 1991-92, the percentage of Indian students to countries in American continent was 92%, which declined to 89% in 1992-93, 78% in 1993-94, 60% in 1994-95, 51% in 1995-96, 47% in 1996-97 and further decreased to 36% in 1997-98 but in 1998-99 it is slightly improved and increased to 37.3%. Notwithstanding this, the share of Indian students to countries of American continent, by and large, remains the largest amongst all the continents of the World.

On the other hand, the percentage of Indian students to countries in Oceania increased from 2.8 % in 1991-92 to 35.9% in 1997-98, which decreased to 34% in 1998-99. The percentage of students to Europe was 3.8% in 1991-92, which decreased to 3.7% in 1992-93 but again increased to 10.2% in 1993-94, 19.1% in 1994-95, 21.2% in 1995-96, 22.1% in 1996-97, and 24.3% in 1997-98. During 1998-99 the percentage of Indian students decreased to 16.7%.

The percentage of students from India to countries in Asian continent was 0.5% in 1991-92 and remained more or less at the same level at 0.6% in 1992-93. It marginally increased during 1993-94 to 1.1%, 1.4% in 1994-95 and then further increased to 1.6% in 1995-96. This trend was reversed to 1.31% in 1996-97. However, percentage of students increased during 1997-98 to 2.17%, which increased many fold to 10.2% during 1998-99.

The above analysis distinctively indicates that the three continents viz. America, Europe and Oceania put together accounted for 88.1% of the students, leaving thereby, about 11.9% of the students who went to countries falling in other continents. The American continent still dominates in absorbing the largest number of Indian students.

2. SEXWISE NUMBER OF INDIAN STUDENTS GOING ABROAD

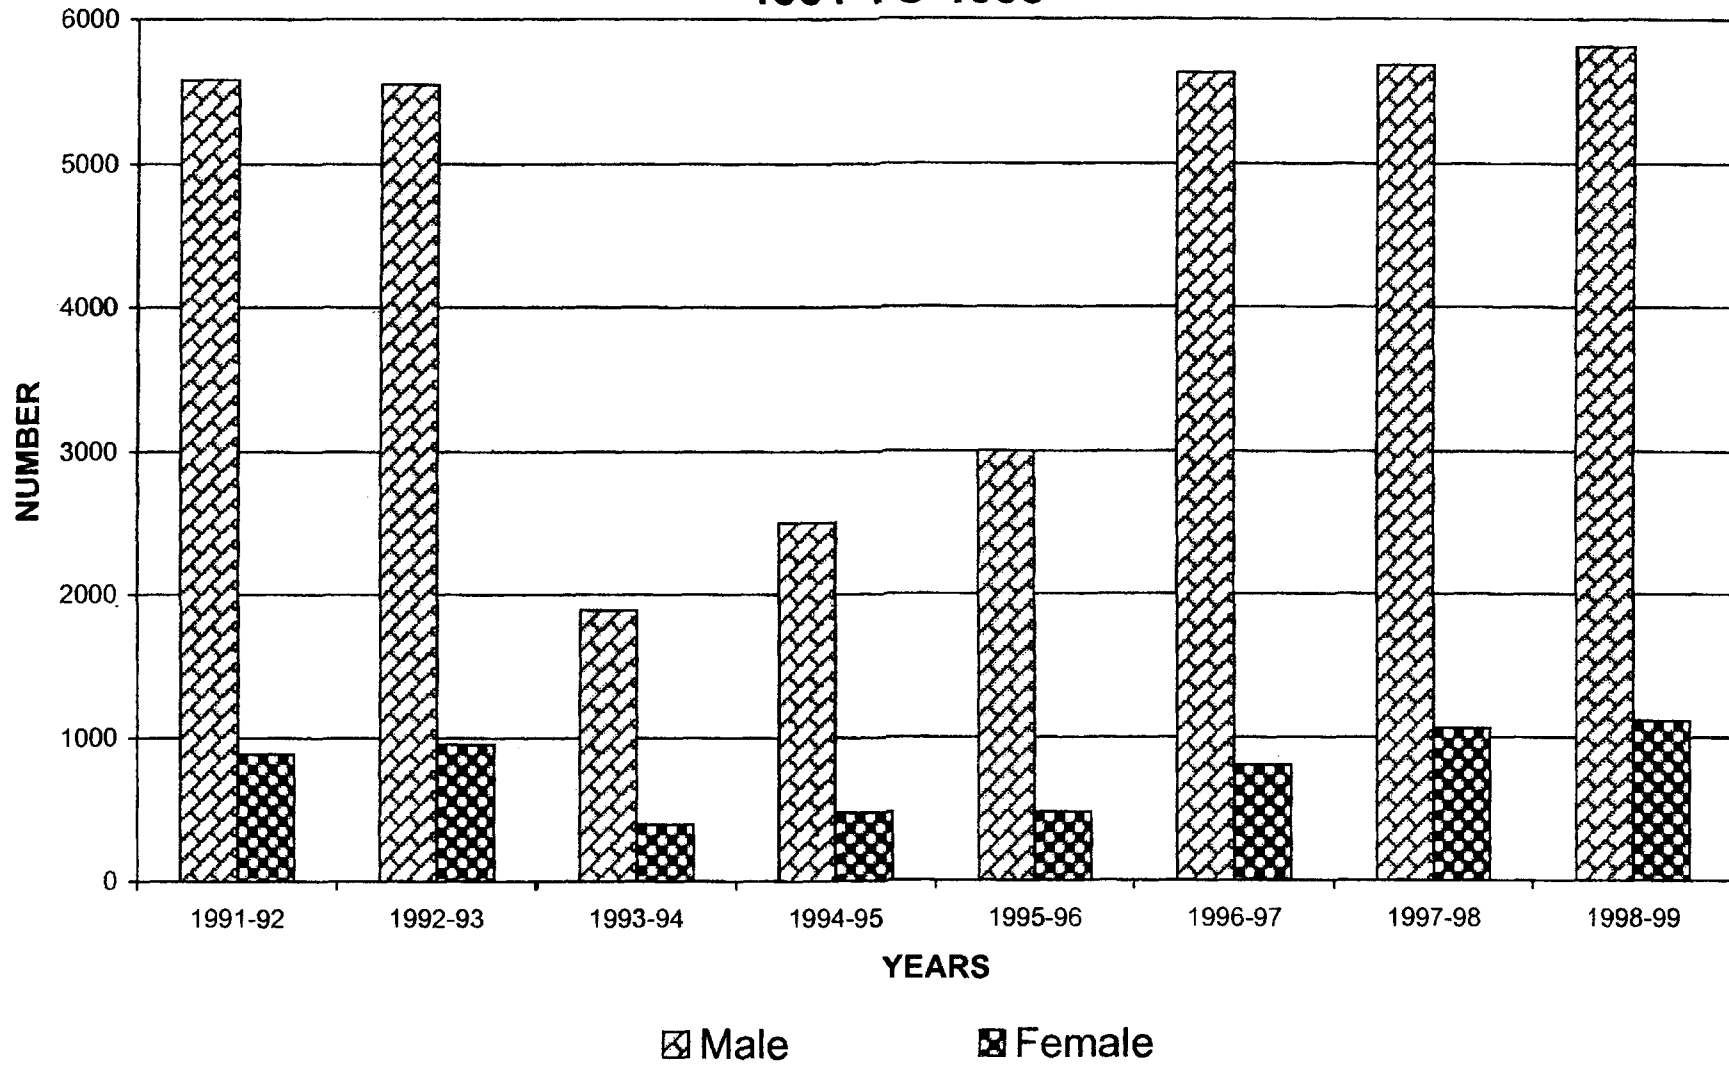

Sex-wise number of Indian students who went to different countries during 1991-92 to 1998-99 is as follows:

No student went abroad from A&N Islands, Daman & Diu and Lakshadweep. However, during the past years, the trend was altogether different. During the year 1991-92 the largest number of students who went to foreign countries for higher studies belonged to Andhra Pradesh, closely followed by Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, Delhi, Karnataka etc. During the year 1992-93 the largest number of students who went to foreign countries belonged to Andhra Pradesh closely followed by Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Delhi, West Bengal, Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh, Kerala, Punjab and Bihar.

In 1993-94 the largest number of students belonged to Andhra Pradesh, closely followed by Tamil Nadu, Delhi, Maharashtra, Karnataka, and Gujarat. In 1994-95, largest number of students went abroad from Delhi followed by Andhra Pradesh, West Bengal and Maharashtra. 4. FIELDS OF STUDY

The distribution of students by fields of studies indicates that largest number of students who went abroad opted for Engineering, Architecture, Science, Technology and Industry, Medicine etc. during all these years. However, no specific trend has been observed in any fields of study.

For instance, in 1991-92, only 37% of total students opted for Engineering & Architecture. This percentage increased to 38% in 1992-93 but declined to 31% in 1993-94 and further came down to 27% in 1994-95 and 20% in 1995-96. It, however, increased to 23% in 1996-97. However, it decreased in 1997-98 to 15.06% , but showed a marginal increase of 16.7% during 1998-99. In Medicine, only 5% opted in 1991-92, which increased to 7% in 1992-93 but came down to 3.72% in 1993-94. This touched 11% during 1994-95 and 1995-96 and then further increased to 14.11% in 1996-97. But it showed a decreased of 9.01% during 1997-98 and a marginal increase of 9.34% in 1998-99.

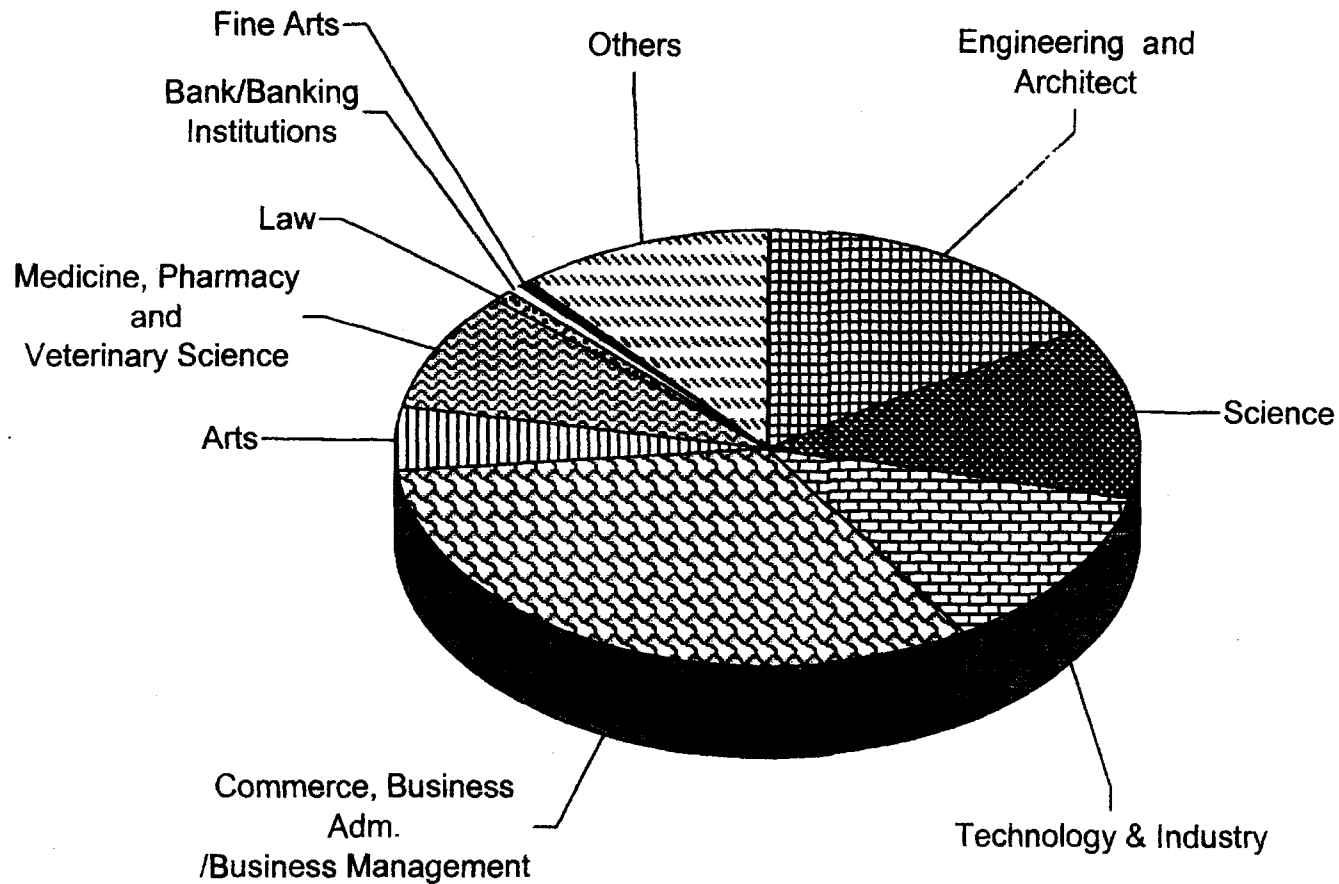

In Science, 21.40% opted in 1991-92, which increased to 22.26% in 1992-93, 25% in 1993-94 but then decreased to 11% in 1994-95 and 1995-96 and further decreased to 10% in 1996-97. During 1997-98, it increased to 11.72% and further increased to 13.34% in 1998-99.

A very small number of students went abroad to pursue subjects like Education, Nursing, and Library Science. In 1996-97, the largest number of students (28%) went abroad in the fields of Commerce, Business Administration/Business Management. In 1998-99 also the largest number of students (33.85%) went abroad in the fields of Commerce, Business Administration/Business Management. Details are in Sub-Table 4.

NUMBER OF INDIAN STUDENTS GOING ABROAD ACCORDING TO FIELD OF STUDY DURING 1998-99

5. CONTINENT AND SUBJECT-WISE NUMBER OF INDIAN STUDENTS GOING ABROAD

Continent-wise/Subject-wise analysis indicates that during 1991-92, 5070 (78.40%) of students went for higher studies in Engineering and Architecture, Science, Medicine and Commerce & Business Management. Of these, 4767 (94.02%) went to American continent alone. Remaining less than 6% got distributed in other continents. The share of Indian students going to the American continent has considerably been reduced from 92.10% in 1991-92 to 37.2% in 1998-99, yet the number of Indian students going to American continent for higher studies in these subjects still remains the highest amongst the different continents of the world. In 1998-99, 5002 students (74.27%) went abroad to study engineering and Architecture, Science, medicine and Commerce subjects of which 1909 (27.59%) went to American Continents. The Oceania continent, which contributed only 1.80% during 1991-92 in these subjects, took 23.46% of the Indian Students in these subjects during 1998-99. Similarly, the share of Europe during 1991-92 was only 2.24% in these fields of study, which increased to 23.46% during 1998-99. The details are in Sub-Table-5.

6. FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

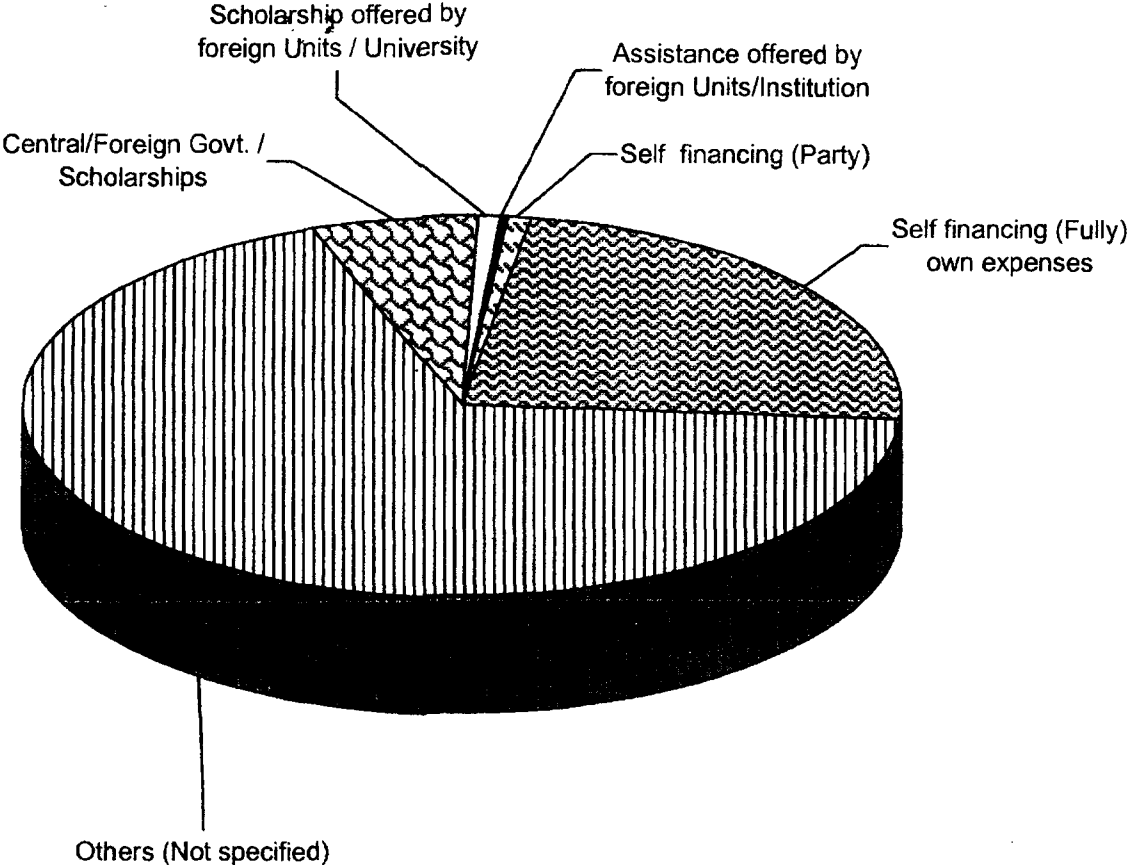

The majority of students went abroad on expenses met out of the unidentified sources, closely followed by self-financing source. These two sources taken together provided funds to more than 91.90% of the students in 1998-99. The remaining sources of financing were not significant for the Indian students who went abroad for pursuing higher studies. The pattern of financial assistance during the past few years is given in the Sub-Table 6 below:

PERCENTAGE OF FUNDING THROUGH MAJOR SOURCES IN THE YEAR 1998-99

7. CONTINENT-WISE SOURCE OF FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

The majority of students went abroad for further studies were either under fully self-financing source or under unspecified source of financial assistance. If these two sources i.e. fully self financing and unspecified sources are taken together then it can be seen that the number of students benefited were 97.5% in 1991-92, 95.6% in 1992-93, 93.6% in 1993-94, 90.2% in 1994-95, 95.7% in 1995-96, 96.9% in 1996-97 and 96.1% in 1997-98 and 91.9% in 1998-99. It is observed that the students went abroad under fully self-financing scheme, the percentage of which increased from 19.0% in 1991-92 to 20.9% in 1992-93, further to 31.8% in 1993-94. It further increased to 33.9% in 1994-95, to 34.9% in 1995-96 and decreased to 29.8% in 1996-97, to 22.9% in 1997-98, which marginally went up to 23.6% in 1998-99. There were no cases, which were met by foreign companies during 1991-92 to 1994-95 but in 1995-96 foreign companies financed 0.14% students, which decreased to 0.10% in 1996-97 and further decreased to 0.01% in 1997-98, but increased to 0.11% during 1998-99. Sub-Table 7 given below indicates sources of financing continent-wise and year-wise to the Indian students who went abroad during the years 1991-92 to 1998-99

9. INDIAN TRAINEES GOING ABROAD

During the year 1998-99, in all 67 Indians went abroad for training in various fields; out of these 2 were females. Majority of trainees i.e. 22 went to Asian continents followed by countries of American continent 19. Out of the 67 trainees who went abroad, majority viz., 51 (76%) went for training under Technical and Industry sector, followed by 8 Trainees in Commerce sector, remaining 8 trainees opted for other fields of training.

However, during 1991-92 to 1998-99, it has been noticed that the highest number of trainees went to countries of European continent i.e. in the year 1991-92, the number of trainees were 1502 which decreased to 542 in 1992-93 , 484 in 1993-94, 285 in 1994-95, 155 in 1995-96, and slightly increased to 211 in 1996-97, which further decreased to 13 in 1997-98 and 11 in 1998-99. The number of Indians who went to Asian countries for various training came down year after year i.e during 1991-92, 723 Indians went to Asian countries which was reduced to 166 & 168 in 1992-93 & 1993-94 respectively and then decreased to 77, 62, 14, 16 during 1994-95 to 1997-98 respectively. The details of number of trainees who went to foreign countries are given in Sub Table-8.

10. FOREIGN STUDENTS IN INDIA

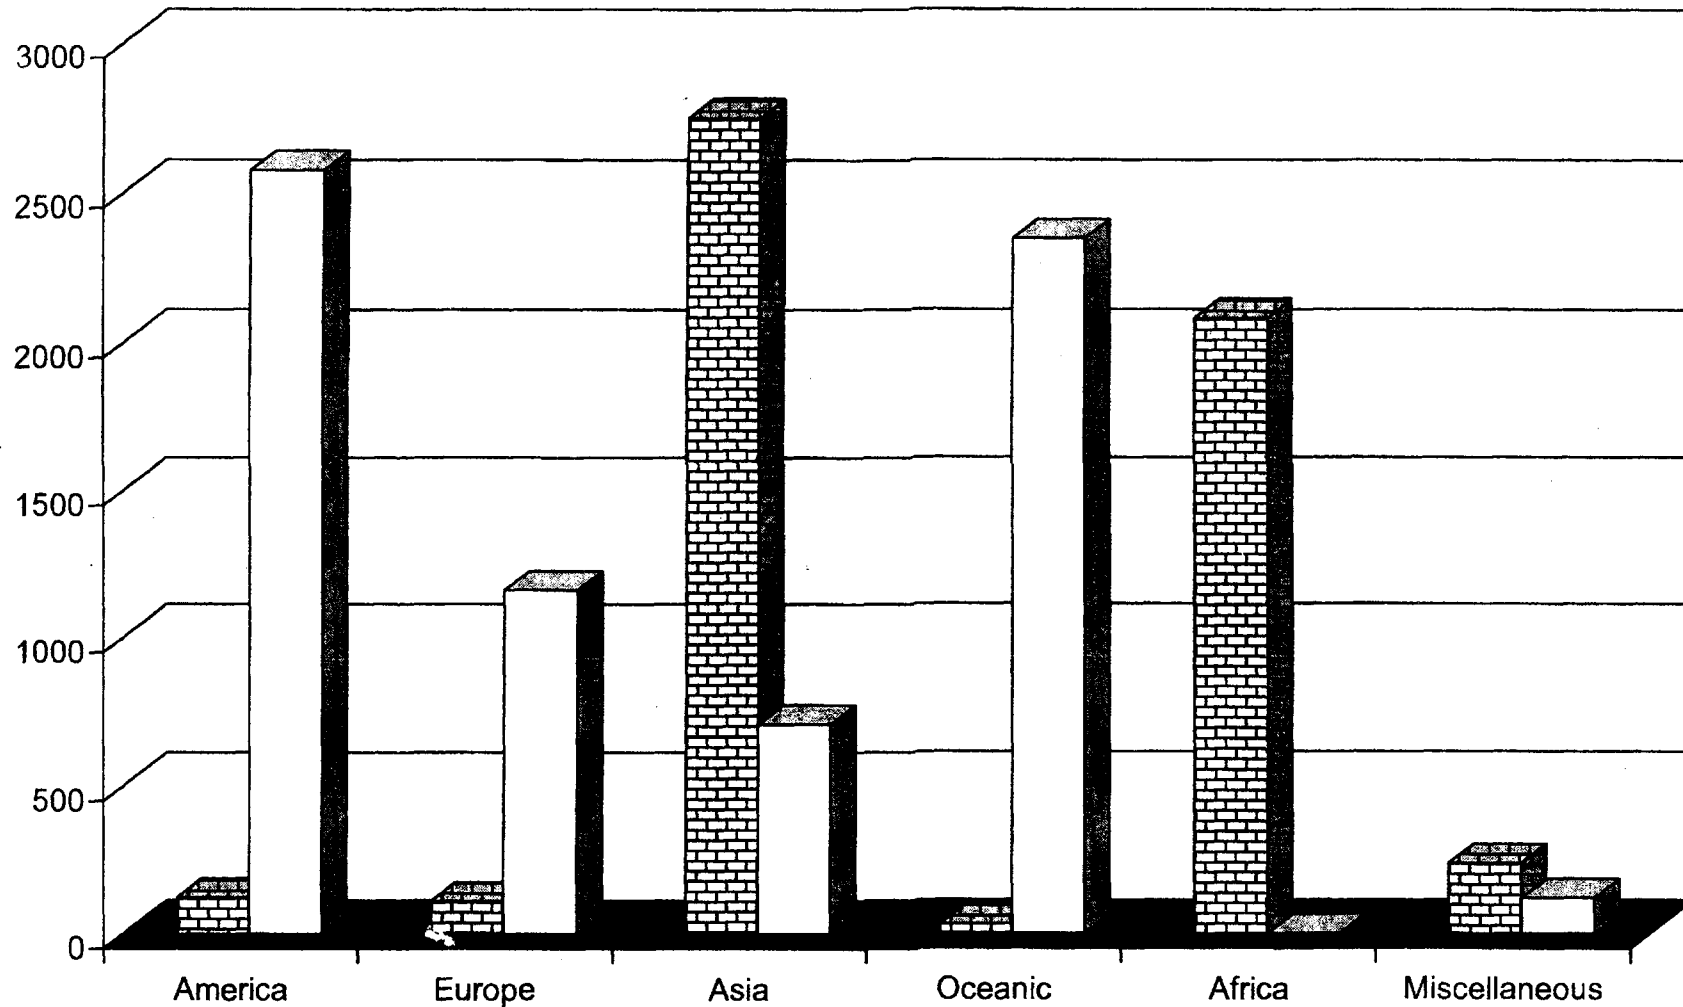

As against 6918 Indian students who went abroad for higher studies, 5323 foreign students came for studies in Indian Universities during 1998-99. Out of 6918 students, 88.08% Students went to American, European and Oceanic continents and the remaining 11.92% went to other continents. On the other hand out of 5323 foreign students came for studies in Indian Universities during 1998-99, 5056(95%) students were from Asian and African countries and the remaining 5% came from other continents. This is indicative of the fact that while majority of our students prefer going to American and European continents which have advanced technologies, the majority of foreign students who came to India are from countries falling in Asian and African continents which are less developed technologically. Sub-Table 9 gives below the continent-wise details of students:
