EXPLANATIONS

1. Academic Year—For the sake of uniformity, the academic year in these tables is taken to coincide with the financial year, i.e., from 1st April, 1975 to 31st March, 1976.
2. All statistics refer to recognised institutions only. The recognised institutions are those in which the courses of study followed are prescribed or recognised by the Government or by a Board of Secondary and Intermediate Education constituted by law and which satisfy one or more of these authorities, as the case may be, that they attain a reasonable standard of efficiency. They are open to inspection and their pupils are ordinarily eligible for admission to public examinations and tests held by the Government or Universities or the Board.
3. Institutions, Enrolment & Teachers—Figures regarding number of institutions, enrolment and teachers relate to 31st March of the year.
4. Expenditure—In calculating the expenditure from Government funds, all payments or contributions from fees and other sources which are credited to such funds, are deducted. The expenditure figures cover the financial year.
5. Indirect Expenditure—Represents the amount incurred on direction, inspection, buildings, furniture, scholarships, hostels and other miscellaneous items. The expenditure on some of these items cannot be apportioned to each type of institution.

GENERAL SURVEY

The year under review being the second year of the Fifth Five Year Plan was marked with increased activities in all stages of education and steady expansion all around. The Central Advisory Board of Education met at its 38th session on 27th and 28th November, 1975. The Board recommended larger allocation to education during the rest of the Five Year Plan period, increased efforts to mobilise additional resources, intensification of programmes of non-formal education to achieve the target of universal elementary education in the age-group 6—14 by 1986, vocationalisation of education at the end of secondary stage, provision of incentives by way of scholarships, reservation of seats in good quality institutions for promoting educational development amongst the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and other weaker sections of the community and broad-basing sports, games and physical education. It also recommended rationalisation of non-plan expenditure.

Out of a Plan allocation of Rs. 189 crores for education, for the year 1975-76, Rs. 62 crores was for the Central and Centrally Sponsored Schemes and Rs. 127 crores for the various programmes of States and Union Territories. The major programmes included by the State Governments in their Plan for 1975-76 were expansion of elementary education, introduction of 10+2+3 pattern, vocationalisation, work experience, quality improvement programme for higher secondary and higher education, and programmes of youth services and social education.

The total budget of the Ministry of Education and Social Welfare was Rs. 154.18 crores (Plan and Non-Plan excluding culture).

A brief account of the various activities in the field of education during the year under report is given below :

Elementary Education

Towards achieving the goal of universalisation of educational facilities for children under the age-group 6—11 within the Fifth Plan, concerted efforts were made for the development of non-formal education programme, mobilising resources of the community, renewal of curriculum in cooperation with the State Primary Curriculum Units and Unicef, and trying out of a community-based educational approach through specially selected Community Primary Centre in the States.

Secondary Education

The year witnessed a significant breakthrough in school education in that the Satellite Instructional Television Experiment was launched in the country in August, 1975 for a period of one year. The broadcast programmes which followed covered 2,400 villages in six selected States.

The Vice-Chancellor's Conference held on 30th September, 1975 decided that in view of the agreement that 10+2 should be the pre-university level, the new enriched three-year first degree course should be launched with effect from or about the academic year 1979-80. All the State Governments were advised to plan their secondary education accordingly.

The Delhi Administration as well as the Central Board of Secondary Education introduced the new pattern in class IX from May, 1975. Schools in the other Union Territories were to adopt the changes made by the respective Boards of Education to which they were affiliated.

Curriculum development for the new pattern of education was one of the major steps of N.C.E.R.T. in 1975-76. An expert committee of eminent educationists appointed by the N.C.E.R.T. prepared the Approach Paper on the curriculum for the 10 year school.

Programmes of work experience were introduced in Central Schools affiliated to the Central Board of Secondary Education and many schools controlled by the State Government. Science instructions were to be provided throughout the 10 year of school education.

The Central Board of Secondary Education adopted new methods of teaching science in a number of schools popularly known as "Project Technology", and for this organised a Summer Institute in Lawrence School, Sanavar from 23rd June to 12th July, 1975. Various other programmes for the qualitative improvement of secondary school education continued to be implemented through the National Council of Educational Research and Training.

The Third All-India Educational Survey at school level was taken up by N. C. R. E. R. T. during the year under review.

Girls Education

The National Council for Women Education at its meeting held in March, 1975, stressed the need for making concerted efforts towards the promotion of education amongst girls.

University & Higher Education

The University Grants Commission was reconstituted in January, 1976. During the year, various programmes for restructuring higher education and making it more relevant to national needs initiated by the Commission earlier began to be implemented by the various universities. In particular, programmes of revision and updating of the syllabi examination reforms, faculty improvement programme, advanced level research, non-formal and continuing education were initiated in a number of universities.

A Conference of Vice-Chancellors held on 30th September—1st October, 1975 opined that generally an under-graduate degree should be of three years duration; but bearing in mind the needs of some States, a two-year pass degree could be instituted. However, in such cases a bridge course of one year's duration should be provided for those desirous of pursuing a master's degree. The recommendations of the conference were endorsed by the Commission.

The Commission also appointed a task force to suggest details of the change over and the nature of the adjustment that would become necessary in syllabi of the university. The task force was also asked to consider the question of introducing pass, honours and linked courses in the Central Universities as well as the programmes of organising school and predegree courses within the frame work of 10+2+3.

During the current plan period, the Commission adopted a liberalised pattern of assistance to institutions of backward area. The Commission advised all State Governments to set up an Inter-University Coordination Board so as to make the best use of all available resources and expertise for the coordinated development of academic programmes of the various universities in each State. The universities were also asked to set up a Planning Board which would engage itself in reviewing implementation of the various academic programmes in the universities.

The Commission approved financial assistance to universities to have computer facilities.

During the year, the Indian Council of Social Sciences Research, sanctioned 80 research projects involving an expenditure of Rs 20.81 lakhs. The Council awarded various fellowships. Besides the normal activities of the Social Science Documentation Centre, a Sale Service was established and 300 Government of India's publications were supplied to various institutions in the country. To commemorate the International Women's Year the ICSSR initiated a programme of publications, research and seminars on problems relating to changes in the status of women and their condition.

Technical Education

The links between educational research institutions and industry were strengthened during the year. This was done by consolidation and development of existing facilities and reorganisation of degree and diploma courses with a view to improve the quality and standard of technical education and to meet the demand of industry by diversification of courses. A number of programmes under the Quality Improvement Programmes Scheme were conducted to improve the quality of teaching in institutions. The Programmes at the post-graduate and research level continued to be improved in consultation with industry for training highly specialised personnel for research, development and design.

The Pay scales of teachers in engineering colleges were revised to attract and retain competent persons for the colleges. The question of revision of the pay scales of teachers working in polytechnics was being considered.

The programme of the Apprenticeship Training was continued and expanded. The number of opportunities were increased for students to put their educational experience to worthwhile use as a result of the apprenticeship scheme.

The intake of students in technical institutions was also increased. 22,454 students were admitted to the first degree courses in engineering and technical education and 48,769 students were admitted to various diploma courses as against 21,870 students in first degree courses and 47,291 in diploma courses in 1974-75.

The year 1975-76 being the International Women's Year, special efforts were made in the field of technical education to provide better facilities to women teachers of technical institutions. Special short-term courses were organised for the women teachers of Women's Polytechnics at Technical Teachers Training Institutes. Further, seats were specially reserved at M. Tech. and Ph. D. levels at the five Indian Institutes of Technology for Women teachers.

All the institutions conducting post-graduate courses in Engineering and Technology were asked to reserve 5 per cent seats for admitting Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes candidates to Post-graduate Courses in Engineering and Technology.

On the advice of the All India Council for Technical Education, a Model Bill was prepared to enable the State Governments/Union Territories to set up Boards of Technical Education as Statutory Bodies for coordinating the development of Polytechnic Education and improvement of the quality and standard of diploma courses in each State.

Non-Formal (Adult) Education

The Scheme of Non-formal education for the age-group 15—25, was launched during the year. It was started in one district in each State with Central assistance. In addition to this, each State and Union Territory was also requested to start the scheme at least in one more district out of its own resources.

The Farmers Functional Literacy Programme was continued in an intensified manner and the programme was extended to 16 new districts, bringing the total number of districts with such projects to 123. During the year, the project was not only extended to cover new districts, but also to cover new functional areas.

Production and Supply of literacy and reading material registered further increases during the year.

National Service Scheme

Under the National Service Scheme, students in various universities participated in several camping programmes and engaged themselves in socially useful activities like the campaign for "Youth Against Dirt and Disease" and "Youth For Afforestation and Tree Plantation". There was an enlargement in the activities under National Service Scheme and emphasis was placed on literacy programmes, discussion on desirability of late marriages and eradication of social evils like dowry, etc. The students assisted in the preservation and cleaning of important archaeological monuments.

Scholarships

51 were finally selected under the General Cultural Scholarship Scheme, 155 scholars from foreign countries came to India for research work or studies in various fields of education under the Government of India Scholarships Scheme while 25 more were expected to join. Against the offer of 100 scholarships under the Scheme of Scholarships/Fellowships for Nationals of Bangladesh, 52 scholars from Bangladesh joined educational institutions in India.

During 1975-76, two thousand fresh scholarships were awarded under "Scheme of Scholarships to Students from non-Hindi speaking States for Post-Matric Studies in Hindi". Under "Government of India Scheme of Scholarships in Approved Residential Secondary Schools", 470 fresh scholarships were given during 1975-76. During the year 1975-76 under Partial Financial Assistance Scheme, loans were granted to 71 students.

Besides, various other scholarship schemes like National Scholarship Scheme for the Children of Primary and Secondary School Teachers, Scholarships at Secondary Stage for Talented Children from Rural Areas, etc., were continued.

The various programmes for book promotion, viz., support for the writing of quality books at university level, republication of low-priced editions of standard works originally published in USA, UK and USSR, production of books in core subjects, reduction of expenditure by means of subsidy, etc., were continued during the year.

A Second World Book Fair was organised by the National Book Trust in New Delhi from 16th to 25th January, 1976 in collaboration with the Indian Book Industry. 37 publishers from 19 countries, WHO, UNESCO, ILO and 266 Indian publishers and distributors participated in the Fair.

A training course on publishing management and symposia and seminars on various aspects of publishing were organised by the Federation of Indian Publishers, Federation of Publishers and Booksellers Associations in India, etc.

Sports

As part of the celebration of the International Women's Year, a National Women's Sports Festival was held in New Delhi in November, 1975.

To implement the programme of broad basing sports and games and to involve in particular a large number of youth in rural and tribal areas in their activities on a sustained basis, a set of guidelines was formulated and circulated to all the State Governments. The Government of India also extended financial assistance to State Governments to hold special sports meet for women during the International Women's Year.
