

Annual Plan 1994-95. Meghalaya

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Area and Location : Meghalaya is one of the smallest states in India and is strategically located in the north eastern region. The total area of the state is 22,429 sq. km. The state lies between $25^{\circ} 5'$ east and $26^{\circ} 10'$ north latitudes and $98^{\circ} 47'$ and $97^{\circ} 47'$ east longitudes. The state is a land locked territory sharing borders with Assam in the north and the east and with Bangladesh in the south and the west. The length of international boundary touching the state is 296 kms. The original composite districts of the United Khasi and Jaintia Hills and the Garo Hills have now been divided into 7 (seven) districts namely., (1) Jaintia Hills (2) East Garo Hills (3) West Khasi Hills (4) South Garo Hills (5) East Khasi Hills (6) West Khasi Hills and (7) Ri-Bhoi.

1.2 Population : The total population of the state as per 1991 census is 17,74,778 as against 13,35,819 in 1981 indicating a rise of 32.86 per cent over the population of 1981. Nearly 81 per cent of the population of the state lives in rural areas. As per 1991 census the state had a total of 5492 villages indicating a rise of 12.04 per cent over 1981 census. The population of Meghalaya is predominantly tribal which constitutes nearly 85.5 per cent the scheduled caste population is barely 0.51 per cent and others form 13.96 per cent of the total population of the state.

The following table shows the district-wise area and population of Meghalaya:

District	Headquarters	Area (Provisional)	Population (1991 Census)	Population (1991 Provisional)
1. East Khasi Hills	Shillong	2748 Sq. Km.	5,37,906
2. Ri-Bhoi	Nongpoh	2448 Sq. Km	1,27,312
3. West Khasi Hills	Nongstoin	5247 Sq. Km.	2,20,157
4. East Garo Hills	Williamnagar	2603 Sq. Km	1,88,830
5. West Garo Hills	Tura	3714 Sq. Km	4,03,027
6. South Garo Hills	Baghmara	1850 Sq. Km	77,073
7. Jaintia Hills	Jowai	3819 Sq. Km	2,20,473

1.3. Natural Resources: The State is richly endowed with natural resources. The heavy and long monsoon sustains intensive and varied flora. Forests cover a land surface of 8510 Sq. kms or about 37.5 per cent of the total area of the state. The area of the reserved forests under the control of the state, however, is small. The large scale felling of trees now taking place in the state for timber and firewood is giving rise to problems of poor water retention, soil erosion, reduced soil fertility etc.

The total known coal reserve has been estimated to be 6301 million tonnes, sillimanite in the indicated category is 5 lakhs tonnes and reserve of industrial clay is 71 million tonnes. Other commercially exploitable mineral deposits are kaolin, feldspar, glass sand, etc.

Heavy rainfall, big streams and rivers provide abundance of hydro power potential in teh state.

1.4. Soil and rainfall : By and large the soil in the state is acidic in nature and comparatively rich in organic matter and nitrogen but poor in phosphorous. Due to heavy rainfall, the soil in the border areas tend to be sandy. The Mawsynram, Cherrapunjee, Pynursdta belt in Khasi hills along the southern border records a rainfall varying between 1,000 to 15,000 mms per year. There has been heavy pressure on the forests resources resulting in large scale indiscriminate felling of trees. This has exposed the hills to natural vagaries which have caused large scale erosion of the top soil and huge amount of soil are washed away every year.

1.5 For various historical reasons, Meghalaya like other small hill states has been suffereing from several development lags particularly deficiency in basic infrastructural support for economic and social growth including efficient management of its natural resources. Since the birth of Meghalaya in 1972, the Govt. of Meghalaya have been taking up development Schemes on an assessment that essentially the backwardness of Meghalaya as been due to lack of capital in relation to the state labour force. Accordingly the principal planks of Meghalaya's development strategy have been :

- (a) To create a sound physical infrastructure for growth -roads, communications, power, transport and telecommunication;
- (b) To invest in human resource development in broad terms through schemes for critical areas of public health, family welfare, education and nutrition for improvement of not only the productive capability of its population and particularly the labour force but also to improve the quality of life;
- (c) To upgrade the productivity of poor sectors of the state's economy such as agriculture, industries, forestry, horticulture, environment - friendly methods of exploitation, of mineral resources by implementing schemes on sustained basis for raising incomes of its population and generating employment opportunities and
- (d) To take up Anti Poverty Programmes through implementation of individual beneficiary oriented schemes under IRDP, TRYSE, Village and Small Scale Industry and Self-Employment Programmes in various sectors.

2. It is possible to state that the development experiences of Meghalaya in the last 2 decades indicates that the aforesaid strategy has been particularly successful in terms of creation of an improved basic physical infrastructure, emergence of a literate population endowed with various skills needed for modernisation of the tribal societies and a beginning towards application of modern inputs in agriculture and new technologies for various Industries activities. This has been achieved through Plan Investment to the tune of Rs. 1516.00 crores since the 4th Plan. The succeeding chapters indicating the physical progress achieved in various sectors may give an impression that the progress has been somewhat below the targets but this must be seen against the background of development lags mentioned earlier which necessarily take time to overcome. On the whole a base has been created for developing a vibrant economy by releasing the productive potential of various sub-sectors through increase Plan Investment and at the same time consolidating the gains achieved. 1994-95 Annual Plan proposal have been drawn up on this basis.

CHAPTER II

Economic Scenario - Meghalaya 1993 -94 .

The Economy of Meghalaya is basically rural with agriculture playing a predominant role. The progress of the agricultural sector continues to be sluggish due to widespread practice of low yielding traditional method of cultivation like shifting or jhum cultivation. The total food grain production in 1992-93 is estimated at 1,45,199 M.T. which is lower than the last years production of 1,55,199 M.T. The Production of rice is estimated to be about 1,14,036 M.T. as against 1,21,067 M.T. in 1991-92. Potato which is one of the major crops of the state also shows a decline in output from 1,53,159 M.T. in 1991-92 to 1,19, 563 M.T. in 1992-93 with the average yield of 8,683 Kgs., per ha., and 6785 Kgs., per ha., respectively. During 1992-93, the productivity of the principal kharif crop shows a considerable decline over the preceding year which could be due to abnormal rainfall and hail-storm during the harvesting season.

The estimate of net State Domestic Product (SDP) analysed and arrived at the State Directorate of Economic and Statistics show that the provisional and quick estimates of the Net State Domestic Product at current prices increased from Rs. 945.68 crores in 1991-92 to Rs. 1070.72 crores in 1992-93 registering a growth rate of 13.22 % over the year as against a growth of 19.01 % in the preceding year. As regard the per Capita Income at current prices , it shows a considerable increase from Rs. 5231 in 1991-92 to Rs. 5769 in 1992-93 indicating a rise of 10.28 % during the year as against 15.47 % of the preceding year. The All India Per Capita income at current is estimated at Rs. 6249 in 1992-93 as against Rs. 5583 of the previous years which indicates an increase of 12.10 % The Net State Domestic Product at constant price (1980-81) is estimated at Rs. 370.36 crores in 1992 -93 as against Rs. 344. 66 Crores in 1991-92 which shows a growth rate of 7.5 % during the year whereas in the previous year, it was 11.4% . The corresponding Per Capita Income at Constant Prices is estimated at Rs. 1995 in 1992-93 as against Rs. 1906 in 1991-92 indicating an increase of 4.7% as Against 8.0 % of the Preceeding Year.

From the table of the estimates of the State Domestic Product, it is observe that agriculture is the pre-dominant sector of the State's Economy and contributed about 26 % to 32% to the total Net State Domestic Product (SDP) at constant prices.

A significant improvement is indicated in the increase of registered small scale industries unit with the total number of 1733 in 1991-92 as against 1558 numbers in 1990-91 and 1365 in 1989-90 and the number of persons employed in the units are 10169, 9248 and 8181 respectively. However, the number of registered factories in the State stagnated during the last several years and the employment therein declined from year with the number of employees of 3574 in 1985 dropped down to 2439 in 1992. Production of minerals has been a general decline over the last few years. The Production (in thousand tonnes of coal, limestone and sillimanite during the year 1992 were 2621,188 and 1.0 respectively as against 3464,235 and 1.6 in 1991 and 3747,273 and 3.1 respectively during the year 1990. The Percentage of decrease of 1992 over the year 1991 are (-) 24.34 for coal and (-) 20.00 and (-) 37.50 for lime stone and sillimanite respectively. The Production of cement from the only State major cement plant at Sohra was 102 thousand tonnes in 1992 as against 124 thousand in 1991 which indicate a decline of 17.6% over the year.

Unemployment is another significant development which is causing concern for the policy makers of the State as it has become the crux of the problem over the years. According to the employment Exchange registration figures,, the unemployment of Engineering graduates rose from 36 in 1990 to 42 in 1991 and to 66 Nos., in 1992. The percentage of increase over each year are 16.67 % and 57.14 % respectively. The number of unemployed agricultural graduates went from 4 in 1991 to 24 in 1992 and general graduates from 1617 in 1991 to 1646 in 1992. The total number of unemployed persons went up to 12109 in 1992 from 11713 in 1991 which indicate a marginal increase of 3.38% as against 13.82 % of the proceeding year. Employment in the public sector show an improvement with an increase of 1.64 % over the year, from 1991-92 to 1992 -93 as against 0.19% of the previous year. The number of persons employed in the public sector is 65448 in 1992-93 as against 64394 in 1991-92 whereas employment in the private sector are 4962 in 1992-93 and 4835 in 1991-92 indicating an increase of 2.63% as against 6.80 % of the previous year.

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) for urban non-manual employee reflects that Shillong centre is the highest during the last few years. the Consumer Price Index (base 1984 = 85 =100) of Shillong centre as on September, 1993 is reported at 235 which is the highest among the selected centres of the country and also the All India. A comparative statement over the years is given below:-

CONSUMER PRICE INDEX FOR URBAN NON-MANUAL EMPLOYEES

September, 1993	235	230	217	215	214	214	209	217

An upward trend of price is noticeable in the State particularly the Shillong centre, the capital of the State. Wholesale and retail price of essential commodities rose up considerably causing great hardship to consumers.
