PREFACE

This study presents an analysis of trends in respect of Indian students and Trainees who have gone abroad for higher studies during 1995-96. Basic data for the study was collected from the Reserve Bank of India. We are grateful to the Reserve Bank of India for providing the useful data for this study.

The purpose for bringing out this publication is to maintain the statistical records of Indian Students/Trainees Going abroad under various schemes for higher studies and to acquire latest know-how in various fields like Agriculture, Technology, Science, Medicine, Education, etc. Efforts have been made to compare the outflow of Indian students in foreign countries with inflow of students from foreign countries in Indian Universities in 1995-96. This publication gives statistics of out flow of Indian students/Trainees about state-wise, duration-wise, sex-wise, subject-wise, country-wise etc. In addition, it also gives information about sources of financial assistance, country-wise, agency-wise etc.

I would like to place on records my deep appreciation of the team spirit and the work done by the Project Staff under Dr. R.S. Thakur, Joint Director (Plg) of Statistics Division, CMIS Unit and S&S Section in bringing out this useful publication. Thanks are due to the RBI, Bombay and AIU for supplying the valuable information.

It is hoped that this study will be of interest and use to educational planners, administrators and research workers in the field of education.

Introduction

1. The total number of Indian students who went abroad for higher studies increased from 4861 in 1990-91 to 6466 (33.02%) in 1991-92 and then maintained the level of 6499 in 1992-93 but steeply decreased to 2284 (64.86%) students in 1993-94 over the previous year and then appreciably improved to 2983 (30.60%) students during the year 1994-95. This increasing trend continued in 1995-96 when it substantially increased to 3478 students by 16.59% over the previous year. Year-wise/continent-wise details are given below in Sub-Table 1:

2. It will be observed from the above that the outflow of students to countries in the American continent has been on the decrease right from 1991 onwards. In the year 1990-91, the annual outflow of students to countries in American continent was 89% which increased to 92% in 1991-92 but then declined to 89% in 1992-93, 78% in 1993-94, 60% in 1994-95 and further decreased to 51% in 1995-96. Notwithstanding this, the share of Indian students to countries comprising American continent, by and large, remains the largest amongst all the continents of the World. On the other hand, the percentage of annual outflow of students to countries in Oceania is on the increase. It was 2.7% in 1990-91; 2.8% in 1991-92; 5.79% in 1992-93; 8.8% in 1993-94; 18.5% in 1994-95, which increased to 24.70% in 1995-96. The percentage of annual outflow of students to Europe was 6.5% in 1990-91 which came down to 3.8% in 1991-92, then decreased to 3.70% in 1992-93; 10.2% in 1993-94, 19% in 1994-95 and then increased to 21.22% in 1995-96. The annual outflow of students from India to countries in Asian continent was 1% in 1990-91 which decreased to 0.5% in 1991-92 and remained more or less at the same level at 0.6% in 1992-93 but marginally increased during 1993-94 to 1.1%, 1.4% in 1994-95 and then further increased to 1.64% in 1995-96.

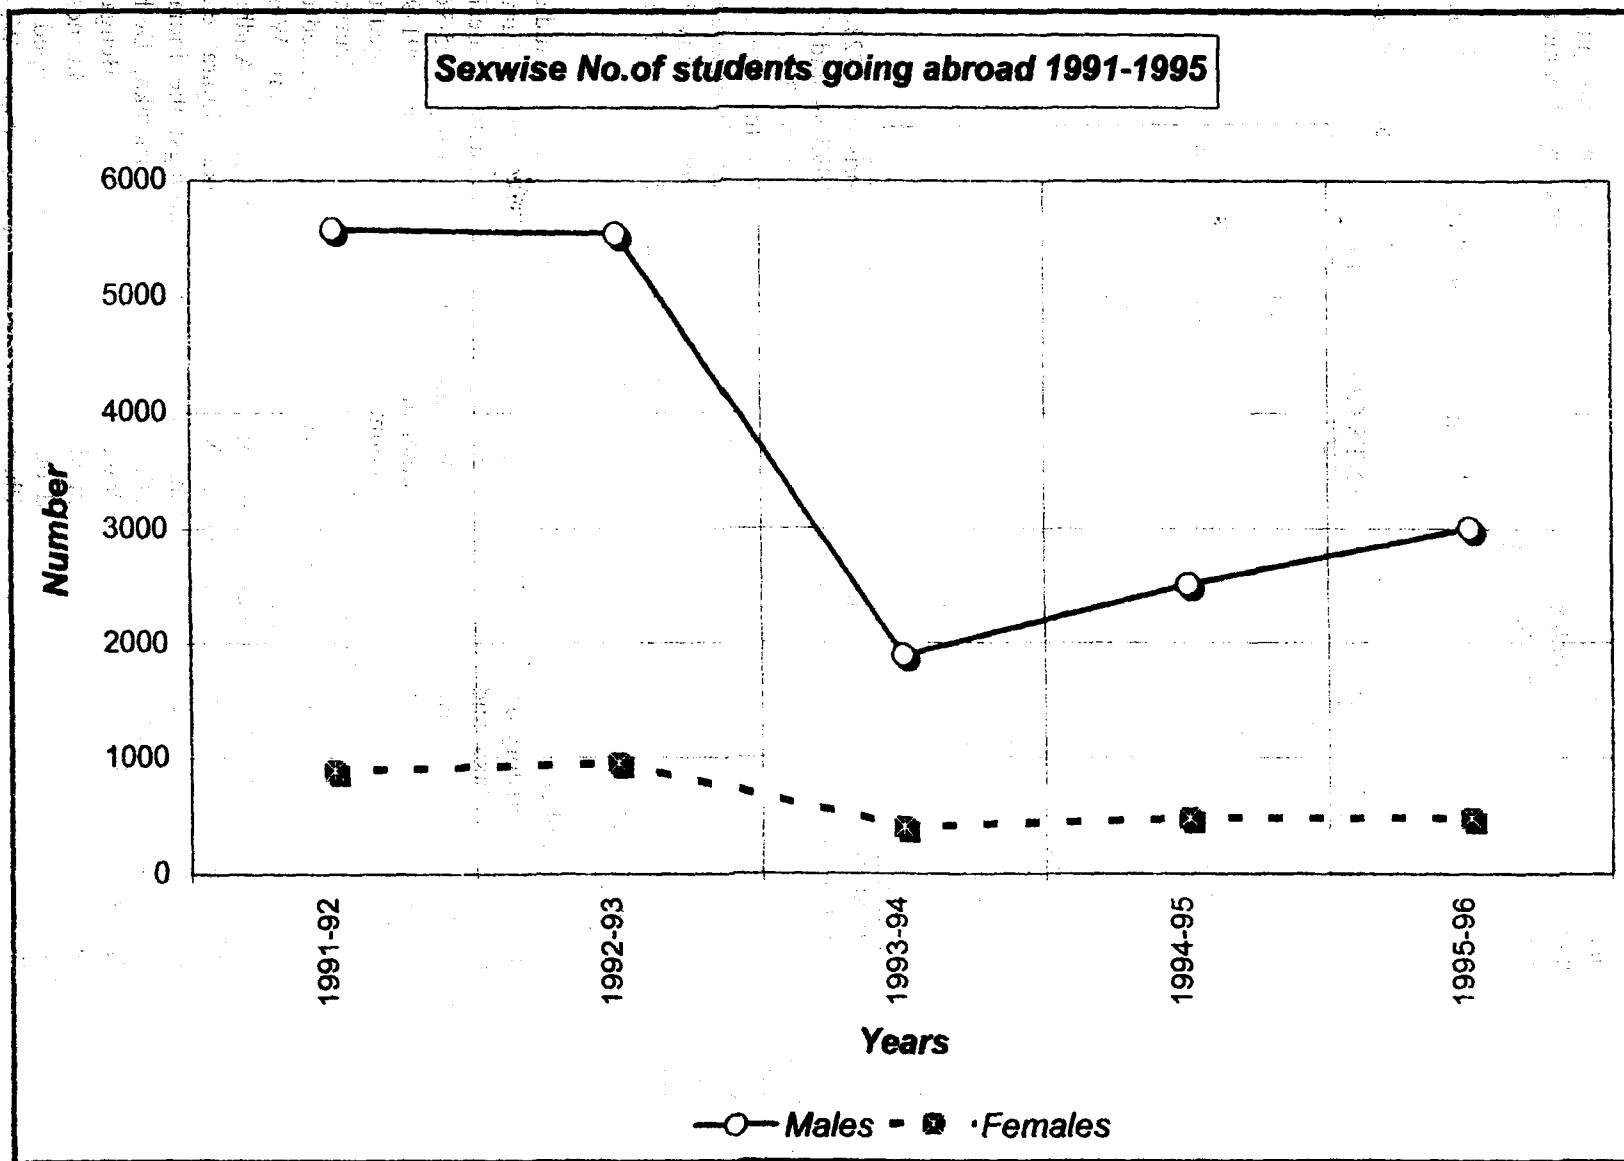

3. The above analysis distinctively indicates that the three continents viz. America, Europe and Oceania put together accounted for more than 96% of the students leaving thereby, a very small fraction of slightly more than 3% of the students who went to countries falling in other continents; and, secondly, the trend of outflow of students from India to countries comprising American continent has been on the decrease i.e. from 92% in 1991-92,

Outflow of students to different continents 1990-1995

ii(a)

the outflow has come down to just 51% during 1995-96, although the American continent still dominates in absorbing the largest number of Indian students. This is followed by Oceanic and Europe whereto the outflow of Indian students is on the increase.

4. The sex-wise number of Indian students who went to different countries during 1991-92 to 1995-96 is as follows:

Sub-Table: 2

SEX-WISE NUMBER OF STUDENTS GOING ABROAD

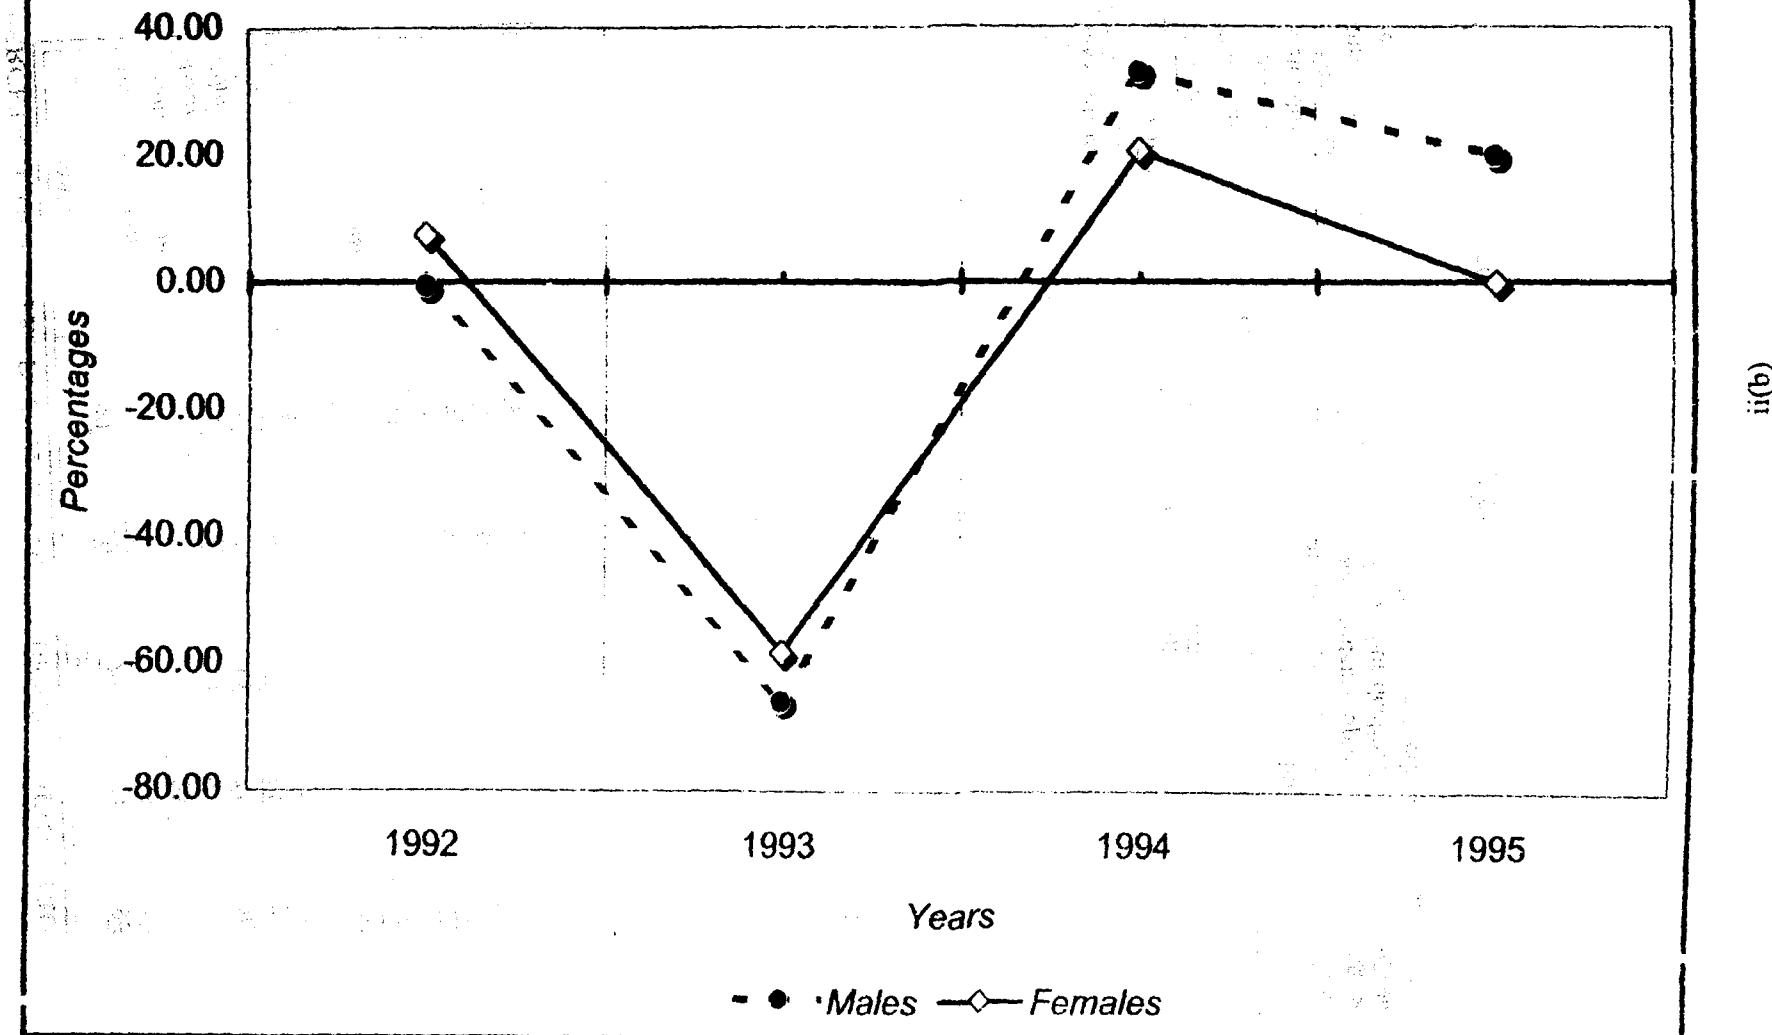

| Year | | Male | Female | Total |
|---------|--------|-------|--------|-------|
| 1991-92 | Number | 5579 | 887 | 6466 |
| | %age | 86.28 | 13.72 | 100 |
| 1992-93 | Number | 5546 | 953 | 6499 |
| | %age | 85.34 | 14.66 | 100 |
| 1993-94 | Number | 1887 | 397 | 2284 |
| | %age | 82.62 | 17.38 | 100 |
| 1994-95 | Number | 2505 | 478 | 2983 |
| | %age | 83.98 | 16.02 | 100 |
| 1995-96 | Number | 3001 | 477 | 3478 |
| | %age | 86.29 | 13.71 | 100 |

It will be observed from the above that the number of female students comprised 13.72% in 1991-92 which increased to 14.66% in 1992-93 and further to 17.38% in 1993-94 and then decreased slightly to 16.02% during the year 1994-95 and further decreased to 13.71% in 1995-96. There has been a decrease in the total outflow of Indian students to the extent of 46% during the period 1991-96. The availability of facilities of higher studies of comparable international standards (which hitherto were not available within the country) may be responsible for overall decrease in the number of students going abroad. Some of the countries might have imposed undue restrictions on foreigners.

STATES OF ORIGIN:

5. The largest number of students who went to foreign countries for higher studies belonged to the Union Territory of Delhi during the year 1995-96 closely followed by Tamil Nadu, West Bengal, Karnataka, and Bihar. No student went abroad from Aranachal Pradesh, A&N Islands, Dadra & Nagar Haveli, Daman & Diu and Lakshadweep during 1995-96. However, during the past years, the trend was altogether different. During the year 1991-92 the largest number of students who went to foreign countries for higher studies belonged to Andhra Pradesh closely followed by Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, Delhi, Karnataka etc. During the year 1992-93 the largest number of students who went to foreign countries pertained to Andhra Pradesh closely followed by Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Delhi, West Bengal, Gujarat etc. In 1993-94 the largest number of students pertained again to Andhra Pradesh, closely followed by Tamil Nadu, Delhi, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Gujarat etc. During the years 1991-92 through 1993-94, Andhra Pradesh topped amongst the Indian States/UTs in sending students for studies abroad followed by Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Delhi etc. but during 1994-95, Delhi topped the list followed by Andhra Pradesh, West Bengal, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka etc. Delhi topped in Arts, Commerce/Business Administration/B.MGT, Banking & Insurance and other subjects. Tamil Nadu topped in Science, Engineering, Tech. & Industry, Medicine/Pharmacy, Agriculture & Forestry. West Bengal topped in Fine Arts etc. Sub-Table 3 below gives the details of the States share individually.

F. FIELDS OF STUDY

6 The distribution of students by fields of studies indicate that largest number of students went abroad opted for Engineering, Architecture, Science, Technology and Industry, Medicine etc. during all these years. No specific trend has been observed in any of the fields of study. For instance, in 1991-92, only 37% of total students opted for Engineering & Architecture. This percentage increased to 38% in 1992-93 but declined to 31% in 1993-94 and further came down to 27% in 1994-95 and 20% in 1995-96. In Medicine, 5% only opted in 1991-92 which increased to 7% in 1992-93 but came down to 3.7% in 1993-94 and remained more or less at the same level at around 11% during 1994-95 and 1995-96. In Science, 21% opted in 1991-92, which increased to 22% in 1992-93, 25% in 1993-94 but then decreased to 11% in 1994-95 and 1995-96 respectively. In subjects like Education, Nursing, Library Science, a very small number of students went abroad. However, the largest number of students went abroad in the fields of Engineering & Architecture during all these years. It was 36.96% in 1991-92; 37.85% in 1992-93; decreased to 31.04% in 1993-94; 26.55% in 1994-95 and 20.21% in 1995-96. The details have been summarized in Sub-Table 4.

Continent-wise/Subject-wise analysis indicate that during 1991-92, 5070 (78.40%) of students went for higher studies in Engineering and Architecture, Science, Medicine and Commerce & Business Management. Of these, 4767 (94.02%) went to American continent alone. Remaining less than 6% were got distributed in other continents. This proportion during 1992-93, 1993-94, 1994-95 and 1995-96 was 5151 (79.26%) of which 4667 (90.60%) in American continent alone; 1710 (74.87%) of which 1384 (80.94%) in American continent; and 2105 (70.57%) of which 1277 (60.66%) and 2417 (69.49%) of which 1191 (49.28%) in American continent alone respectively. The share of Indian students has although considerably been reduced from 91% in 1991-92 to 49.28% in 1995-96 to the American continent, yet the number of Indian students for higher studies to American continent still remains the largest one amongst the different continents of the world. The Oceanic continent who contributed to only 2.29% during 1991-92 took 25.98% of the Indian Students during 1995-96 which is eleven times more of its share in 1991-92. Similarly the share of Europe during 1991-92 was only 2.86% in these fields of study which increased to 21.22% during 1995-96. The details are in Sub-Table-5.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

8. The sources of financing as summarized in Sub-Table -6 indicates that majority of students went abroad on expenses met out of the sources which remains un-identified in all these years closely followed by sources which were fully self financing. These two sources taken together provided funds to more than 95% of the students. Other sources were not significant sources of financing for the Indian students who went abroad for pursuing higher studies. The pattern of financial assistance during the past few years is given in the Sub-Table 6 below:

Indian Students/Trainees Going Abroad - 1995-96

9. Sub-Table 7 given below indicates data about the Indian students who went abroad during the years 1991-92 through 1995-96 according to continents and sources of financing year-wise. On the basis of the results obtained, it has been observed that in all the years majority of the students went to foreign countries for further studies either under a fully self-financing scheme or under a project which has not been specified in detail. If we take the two items i.e. fully self financed and others not specified together then it has been noted that in all these years the largest number of students is in projects which are not specified followed by a fully self-financed scheme. Under these two broad heads, the number of students who were benefited were 97.52% in 1991-92, 95.55% in 1992-93, 93.56% in 1993-94, 90.24% in 1994-95 and 95.66% in 1995-96. Thus it will be observed that the majority of the students met their expenses out of their own pockets but this percentage went on dwindling from 98% in 1991 to 96% in 1992, further to 94% in 1993 and 90% in 1994 and increased to 95.96% in 1995-96. If we add the partly self-financed projects then the percentages of students during these five years were still higher. These were 98% during 1991, 97% during 1992, 94% during 1993 and 92% during 1994 and 97.03% in 1995-96. Here also a decreasing trend has been noticed. The percentage of beneficiaries under State Government funds was negligible; it was only 0.08% in 1991, while nil during 1992-93 and 1993-94 and 0.03% in 1994-95 and 1995-96 but such projects financed by the Central Government and foreign Governments were 0.87% during 1991, 2.26% during 1992 and 1.53% during 1993 only 0.17% during 1994 and 0.48% during 1995-96. There were no cases, which were met by foreign companies during 1991-94 but in 1995-96, foreign companies financed 0.05% students. However, during the year 1994 and 1995, there were 10 cases and two cases respectively which were financed by Indian Universities to American and European countries while during the previous three years, no such cases were reported.

10. Country-wise analysis in Table VI further indicates that out of 3478 students who went abroad for pursuing higher studies as many as 1714 (49.28%) went to USA followed by Australia where 857 (24.64%) and UK, 355 (10.21%). These countries taken together accommodated 2926 (84.12%) of the students during 1995-96. The three continents viz America, Europe and Oceanic accounted for 96.63% of the total Indian students who went abroad for higher studies. This trend has been observed during all the years from 1991-92 through 1995-96. In 1991, it was 99%; in 1992, 98.76%; in 1993, 97.42%; in 1994-95, 97% of the Indian students were in these three continents for higher studies. Details are given in Sub-Table 5 read with Table No. VI.

11. Table VII & VIII indicates that 1327 (38.15%) of the students went foreign countries for studies covering a duration of more than one year but upto two years while 641 (18.43%) of the students went abroad for studies extending upto a period of one year only; 583 (16.76%) went abroad for studies extending to a period upto three years. Remaining 927 (26.65%) had gone for studies extending to periods more than three years.

12. As against 3478 Indian students who went abroad for higher studies, 9033 students from foreign countries were studying in Indian Universities during 1995-96. Of 3478 students who were abroad, 96.64% went to countries in America, Europe and Oceanic continents. Less than 3.36% only went to other continents. None went to African continent. Out of 9033 students studying in Indian Universities, 90.23% students are from countries falling in Asian and African continents. Remaining less than 10% come from other continents. This is indicative of the fact that while majority of our students prefer going to American and European continents which have advanced technologies, the majority of foreign students who came to India are from countries falling in Asian and African continents who are less developed technologically.

Appendix I give detailed information about country-wise and year-wise as also continent-wise number of students studying in India Universities during the year 1995-96. In 1986-87, there were 10820 foreign students studying in Indian Universities. This number came down to 9033 students thereby registering a decrease of 16.52% during the year 1995-96.

13. During the year 1995-96 in all 287 Indians went abroad for training in various fields. Of these 8 were females. A large number of trainees i.e. 155 (54%) went to European countries followed by countries of Asian continent (22%). During the last five years beginning from 1991-92 to 1995-96 it has been noticed that the largest number of trainees went to countries in the European continent. During the year 1991-92, 1502 (45%) went to Europe, during 1992-93, 542 (55%), during 1993-94, 482 (42%), during 1994-95, 285 (48%) and in 1995-96, 155 (54%) of the Indians went to European countries for various trainings. However, the number of Indians who went to Asian countries for various trainings got reduced from year after year. During 1991-92, 723 (22%) Indians went to Asian countries which during 1992-93 was reduced to 166 (17%) and then maintained at 168 (15%) reduced to 77 (13%) and further reduced to 62 (22%) in 1995-96. The details of number of trainees who went to foreign countries are given in Sub Table-9.
