FOREWORD

An interesting and useful work of the Fifth All-India Educational Survey was completed in due course with the co-operation of my colleagues and A.E.I.s from district education offices of the state and Panchayats.

After completion and submission of the state survey report to the NCERT certain suggestions were received from the ministry of H.R.D. and NCERT in order to maintain uniformity of the state survey reports. The same have been carried out and the corrected data are presented here, which I hope, will be useful to the research workers, administrators in the state and at the national level.

I convey my thanks to my colleagues D.S.O.s, A.E.I.s and Primary School Teachers for completing this assignment in time.

1.3 Organisation of Survey

The administrative set up for the survey work at the state level was of the state survey offficer, 2 Assistant State Survey Officers, 2 Statistical Assistants, Steno cum typist and a junior clerk. The set up at the district level was of a district survey officers to be assisted by A.E.I. and a clerk.. To carry on the survey work at the district level, DEOs and DPEOs were requested to co-operate:.
In April '87, the district survey officers were called at Ahmedabad for the short-term training programme. The experts from the NCERT, Delhi helped in training and guiding the DSOs. Adequate number of different forms, as per the need of different districts were distributed. In the next phase, training courses were conducted at various district headquarters to train up the assisting team at the district level. The second phase of the training of D.S.Os. was during the month of Augustt.

How to collect the data with due care, check up of the collected data, scrutinise analyse and how to tabulise the collected information, how to prepare the block tables and block maps along with final report etc. were discussed during the several monthly meetings at head quarters and also at district places.

For accuracy, quality check and guiding and solving various problems and confusions the state unit frequently visited the district units.

At the district level, the district survey officer prepared two sets of the district tables based on the block tables. One copy of the district tables was to be submitted to the state survey officer and the second copy was to be kept at the office of the D.E.O. The survey report of the district as well as block was to be prepared as per the guideline given. The Final district survey report and district tables along with the district map were submitted to the state survey officer in the second week of December, 1987.

At the state level, the state unit started its work of preparing the state tables after due checking of the district tables from 1st January '88 onwards. To assist the state unit, some experienced and efficient persons from districts were called.' The NCERT officers Dr. I. K. Bansal and Dr. Mohmed Yunus were with the state unit from 10-1-88 to 13-1-88 for the scrutiny and reconcileation of the state tables. They again visited in the second week of February '88. As per their guideline the final touch was given.

It was a heavy task to prepare the state tables, with due accuracy, constantly keeping an eye on the time-schedule. Because of the whole hearted co-operation of the primary teachers, educational supervisors of Panchayats and assistant educational inspectors, the state educational survey work was nicely completed. Finally the state tables along with the report were prepared and submitted to N.C.E.R.T. in. the last week of February '88.

The detailed findings are included in the main report. Here are some outstanding findings given in the next chapter on 'main findings'.
