PREFACE

Ever since the formation of Haryana as a separate State in November, 1966, there has been tremendous expansion of educational facilities. The Department of Education has been making incessant and strenuous efforts to bring about qualitative and quantitative improvement of education in the State.

The present publication "Directory of Schools in Haryana", the 6th in the series, gives detailed information about the schooling facilities available at different levels of education in the State as on 31-3-84. As primary schools exist in almost every village/Basti/Dhami, only middle, high and higher secondary schools have been included in the publication.

The statistical information with the names of schools given in this document will be helpful to all those engaged in the task of formulating various schemes and programmes to improve and raise the academic standards, which is now the first priority, after the vast expansion of educational facilities in the State.
