FOREWORD

The present list furnishes information on all High Schools which were functioning in the State during 1978-79. The Anglo Indian Schools are given separately under Part II. All the schools are listed Revenue and Educational District-wise.

In each Educational District the schools are listed in the order of management viz., Government, private aided and unaided. Complete postal address of each school has also been furnished to help locate the school. Further, the schools under each type of management are arranged in alphabetical order to the extent possible, to facilitate easy reference.

A blank sheet has been provided at the end of each Educational District to enter any changes as and when they occur. An abstract of the schools provided in the beginning gives the number of schools at a glance.

The list is compiled on the basis of information furnished by the District Educational Officers and Assistant Educational Officers. The Department is grateful for the kind co-operation extended by them in this regard.

C. K. K. PANICKER,

Director of Public Instruction.

The first part of the document is a list of names and their corresponding numbers. The names are written in a cursive script, and the numbers are written in a simple, blocky font. The list is organized into two columns, with the names on the left and the numbers on the right.

The second part of the document is a large, handwritten note or letter. The text is written in a cursive script and is very dense and difficult to read. It appears to be a personal communication or a detailed report. The handwriting is slanted and somewhat irregular, suggesting it was written quickly or in a hurry.

The third part of the document is a series of short, handwritten notes or entries. These notes are written in a cursive script and are arranged in a list-like format. Each entry appears to be a brief statement or observation. The handwriting is consistent with the rest of the document, but the notes are much shorter and more concise.

The final part of the document is a concluding section, possibly a signature or a date. The text is written in a cursive script and is less dense than the previous sections. It may include a name, a title, or a date, but the handwriting is too faint and blurry to read accurately.
