FOREWORD

COBSE has been trying for the last several years to obtain results of various Boards and Councils of School Education and analyse these with a view to not only providing inputs to the Member-Boards, but also an opportunity to view the results of other board in a new perspective.

In the Study, COBSE has been able to analyse the results of over 30 Boards/Councils on the basis of a proforma designed by it. It would be seen that the analysis that has been done gives a deep insight into performance of students as well as how the Boards analyse their own results. I am sure, in future, all the Boards/Councils would provide results to COBSE within the prescribed time frame, so that this exercise can be taken up on yearly basis. COBSE receives lot of enquiries from Government of India and others on issues related to examination results. Timely supply of information would strengthen COBSE's hands in designing inputs that are needed to have an in-depth analysis of the results.

I appreciate the work done by COBSE in its first effort to have a detailed analysis of examination results.

Chairman, CBSE

PREFACE

One of the major functions of the Boards of School Education is to conduct external examination at the end of class X and XII. These results have assumed high importance for enabling students to enter job market as well as for pursuing higher education. The result at the end of class XII is all the more significant as this leads students to enter tertiary level of education, including academic and professional courses of the university level.

Any educational planning is important to know the performance of the product of secondary and senior education at these two crucial stages of their educational career.

The information that COBSE had sought also has a bearing on the management of the process of examination. If the result of +2 stage is not announced within a reasonable period, it deprives several students from availing advantage of competitive examinations as well as entrance to different universities in the country. It was for this reason that the Hon'ble Supreme Court had passed a direction requiring boards to declare their results within a stipulated period so that students passing out +2 examinations do not suffer because of the late declaration of examination results. The data produced in this report can be utilised in more than one way, as it is rich in terms of achievement of students gender-wise and otherwise.

I am sure, this study will be of immense value to members of COBSE and other stakeholders alike. I will plead with my colleagues in different boards to ensure that they provide us data on time to enable us to carry out the work of this nature on a regular basis. I look forward to their feedback on this first attempt of COBSE to have an indepth analysis of the examination results. I am sure, Boards who have not been able to provide us their results would kindly ensure that information is provided to COBSE within a time-frame.

I acknowledge the support of members of COBSE in enabling us to accomplish the task assigned by the Ministry. I have taken help of several persons, who are expert in analysing data of this nature, and I profusely acknowledge the quality of work done by them.

Ministry of Human Resource Development, Department of Secondary & Higher Education, New Delhi deserve my special thanks for providing financial support to enable COBSE to attempt this analysis.

A STUDY OF EXAMINATION RESULTS, 2004

RATIONALE

Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, Department of Secondary and Higher Education had assigned COBSE to carry out a comparative analysis of the external examinations conducted by various Boards/Councils of Secondary and Senior Secondary Education.

The need to analyse external examination results and to communicate them to the students and teachers with a view to improve their performance was being felt. Unless examination results are properly and systematically analysed, it is difficult to make any impact on the quality of question papers. In the absence of systematic analysis of examination results, it is also difficult to state how scientific was the process of assigning marks to various questions. Lately, the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India wanted to know from some of the boards about the time taken by them in conducting examinations and declaring results vis-à-vis other boards/councils in the country. It has been felt that timely declaration of results is important for students to seek admission to various professional courses and institutions of higher learning. Keeping these issues in view, a study of examination results at secondary and higher/senior secondary level was undertaken by COBSE. This will help many boards to apply corrective measures to improve their own process of declaring results within minimum possible time.

OBJECTIVES

The specific objectives of the study were to:

- Find out time taken by different boards/councils in conducting examinations and declaration of results for secondary and senior secondary levels;
- Find out pass percentages of students in regular and private streams;

- Participation and pass percentages of scheduled castes and scheduled tribe students; &
- Participation and pass percentages of girls.

METHODOLOGY

In order to collect information for comparative study, COBSE developed a tool and circulated the same among all the boards/councils of secondary and senior secondary examinations in the country.

This was the first attempt to collect such types of information. The overall response of boards/councils was satisfying. In all, 32 Boards/Councils have responded to COBSE's request, in this regard. A list of the boards/councils who sent the information relating to examination results is given at Annexure-I. Some of the boards/councils have not supplied information in the desired manner. For example, Chhattisgarh Board of Secondary Education sent results for the year 2002-03, which could not be taken into account since information requested for was for the year 2003-04. COBSE appreciates the difficulties of Boards/Councils in interpreting and analysing such type of data. Realizing the fact that there is always room for improving, it is hoped that, in future, the boards/councils would provide information in the desired format.

THE ANALYSIS

The information received from the boards/councils was divided into following three parts:

1. Time taken for completion of examination process
2. Time taken for declaration of results, &
3. Number of students appeared and passed in examinations

These are discussed in seriatim in the subsequent paragraphs.

1. Time taken for completion of examination process

(a) Secondary Examination

Nineteen Boards of Secondary Education have provided information about examination process i.e. number of days taken for completion of secondary examination. Five Boards have not provided information about actual dates of start/completion of examinations. Detailed information is given in Annexure -II.

NUMBER OF DAYS TAKEN FOR COMPLETION OF EXAMINATION PROCESS SECONDARY EXAMINATION

S.No.	Name of Board	No. of days taken for completion of examination process

Council of Boards of School Education in India

The Council of Boards of School Education in India (COBSE) is a voluntary association of all the 41 Boards of Secondary Education in India. COBSE is a body registered with the Government of India since 1979. Besides, it has Associate Members from friendly countries.

COBSE works in close collaboration with Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India, other national level apex educational organisations and agencies like the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT), National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration (NIEPA) and National Council of Teacher Education (NCTE).

COBSE provides academic support to its member Boards on :

1. Setting and maintenance of educational standards
2. Curriculum planning
3. Preparation of curriculum materials
4. Curriculum transaction
5. Evaluation in schools
6. Public examinations

COBSE also offers consultancy to other educational agencies, organisations and institutions in the above areas.
