CHAPTER I

GENERAL SURVEY

1. Introduction

In the field of University education, the Government of India is responsible for the maintenance of the four Central universities and a few other institutions of National importance and is also responsible for the co-ordination and maintenance of standards of higher education all over the country through the University Grants Commission. The year 1963-64, which is the third year of the Third Five Year Plan, witnessed a further expansion and development of university education in India, both of general and professional type. This alround progress was possible mainly through the grants sanctioned by the Central Government, the University Grants Commission and the State Governments under the various plan and non-plan schemes. These grants had the two-fold object of enabling universities and other institutions of higher education to meet the challenge of unprecedented expansion in the enrolment on the one hand and of the urgent need to improve the quality of education on the other. The Central universities were given full grants by the University Grants Commission for their maintenance and also for the various development projects approved by the Commission. The State universities too received suitable assistance from the U.G.C. for their development projects. The U.G.C., besides assisting the development of existing post-graduate departments and establishment of new ones in various universities and colleges, contributed liberally towards the improvement of salary scales of teachers, construction of students' hostels and staff quarters, and the institution of fellowships and scholarships for post-graduate studies. During 1963-64, a sum of Rs. 12·86 crores was made available to the Commission for plan and non-plan purposes including Rs. 11·79 crores as grants received from the Central Government. Out of this, Rs. 8·60 crores was spent on plan projects and Rs. 3·98 on non-plan projects during the year.

A brief account of activities of the Central Government (including University Grants Commission) in the field of University education during the year 1963-64 is given below.

2. New Universities

During the year under report, six new universities were established. These were Andhra Pradesh Agricultural University, Bangalore University, Indore University, Jiwaji University, Ravi Shankar University and University of Agricultural Sciences, Bangalore, thus bringing the total number of universities to 61. Besides, on the recommendation of the committee appointed to examine the question of setting up of new universities, the Commission approved in principle the establishment of a second university in Assam during the Fourth Plan period. The Commission also recognised the need for establishing universities in Goa and Pondicherry during the Fourth Plan period. Besides, the U.G.C. recommended to the Government of India that Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Bombay and the Birla Institute of Science and Technology, Pilani be recognised as institutions deemed to be universities,

3. Central Universities

The four Central universities reported good progress in the implementation of their various development projects and programmes during the year under review. Some of the important activities concerning these universities are reported below:--

In Aligarh Muslim University, a number of building projects were completed, the laboratories of three Pre-Clinical Departments of Anatomy, Physiology and Bio-Chemistry were equipped and 50 students admitted to M.B.B.S. course. The intake capacity of college of Engineering and Technology was doubled from 120 to 240. A new course of Indian Humanities consisting mainly of the principal elements of Sanskrit and Islamic cultures was instituted. A novel experiment of introducing the Roman script as associate script for teaching Hindi and Urdu to students, whose mother tongue is neither Hindi nor Urdu, was initiated and a new scheme of tutorials was introduced to reduce the load on lecturers.

In Banaras Hindu University, several new courses were introduced. These included M.A. in Sociology, M.D. (Medicine, Physiology and Pharmacology), M.S. (Anatomy and Surgery) and post-graduate courses in Agricultural Botany and Agricultural Chemistry. The two-year diploma and degree courses in Music and Fine Arts were developed into three-year degree courses. The Post-graduate Research Institute in Indian Medicine was started offering a three-year degree course leading to the degree of M.D. in Ayurveda with a view to preparing teachers, eminent specialists, consultants and research workers.

In Delhi University, a large number of new courses of study were introduced in the various faculties from July, 1963. A new department of Linguistics was also established. The Directorate of Correspondence Courses set up in July, 1962 to meet the educational needs of those who for one reason or the other are unable to attend college, extended the facilities to the personnel working in Indian Missions abroad but on condition that they appear for such examinations at Centres in India. The tutorial system introduced in 1958 on an experimental basis for 5 years was terminated in July, 1963. On the basis of the Report of the Committee on Preceptorials and Tutorials appointed by the University, preceptorials and tutorials were made compulsory for all under-graduate students. In order to tackle the problem of admissions and meet the increasing demand for college education, preliminary steps were taken to make plans for opening some new colleges and establishing a second university in Delhi.

In Visva Bharati University, a massive programme of construction to house the various departments and activities of the university was undertaken. The Department of Science was further developed with the starting of the B.Sc. Honours course in Physics. A few other courses of studies were also newly introduced. A proposal to start degree courses in (i) Music and Dance and (ii) Fine Arts and Crafts was also approved. The Rabindra-Sadana (Tagore Memorial Museum) was recognised as an academic department and redesignated as Rabindra Bhavana (Institute of Tagore Studies and Research) which now forms a constituent college of the university and provides facilities for the study and research into Rabindra literature. The Rural Institute was closed down and instead the Palli Siksha Sadana was established to provide a three-year degree course in Social Sciences and a four-year degree course in Agricultural Sciences.

4. Vice Chancellor's Conference

A Conference of State Education Ministers was held in November, 1963 in which the Vice Chancellors of Indian universities and some eminent educationists were also invited. The conference considered inter alia the question of the age of entry into universities and the duration of degree course.

The Vice Chancellors of Central universities also met on 5th April, 1963 and 30th March, 1964 at Banaras and Delhi respectively and made the following recommendations:—

(a) Admission to various courses in the Central universities should be determined on merit and made on an all-India basis to the extent possible.

(b) Assistance should be provided to universities for better hostel facilities.

(c) Much of the administrative work in the Central offices and departments could be reduced if powers and work were suitably delegated. Non-academic work should be done outside the departments and their administrative burden ought to be reduced to the minimum.

5. Standard Committee

The Standard Committee appointed by the University Grants Commission in 1961-62 to make a systematic and objective study of the academic standards prevailing in the Indian universities and making suggestions for improvement, completed the collection of the necessary information on a questionnaire issued to universities. The Committee thereafter visited some selected universities for discussions and on the spot study of issues relating to standards. The report of the committee was being finalised.

6. Committee on Collegiate Education

The Committee on Collegiate Education appointed in September, 1962 to recommend measures necessary for improving collegiate education and make suggestion regarding the effective utilisation of resources available for the purpose, was enlarged and requested to suggest steps necessary for the development of collegiate education in arts, science, commerce and teachers' training courses during the Fourth Plan period.

7. General Education Programmes

The General Education programme in selected Indian universities, started in 1959-60 with a grant from Ford Foundation, continued to make progress during the year. The grants for the preparation of suitable reading material were sanctioned to Aligarh, Andhra, Baroda, Bombay, Marathwada and Osmania universities. Seminars for orientation of teachers in general education were held in Banaras, Bombay, Gujarat, Nagpur, Punjab, Rajasthan and S.N.D.T. Universities. An attempt was being made to compile a suggestive bibliography for the use of teachers and students.

The Standing Advisory Committee on general education appointed by the U.G.C. for reviewing applications for assistance and the progress of significant experiments in general education was reconstituted. The recommendation of the Committee to universities to designate senior members of their staff as co-ordinators for liaison between the universities and the advisory committee in all matters pertaining to general education was implemented by 42 universities.

8. Examination Reform

The University Grants Commission provided assistance to the Universities of Aligarh, Baroda and Gauhati for setting up examination reform units. A report on the investigation undertaken by Aligarh Muslim University was under preparation. The examination reform unit of the Gauhati University started functioning with effect from 1st June, 1963 and a non-recurring grant of Rs. 14,400 and recurring grant of Rs. 26,000 per annum for 3 years was sanctioned for this unit by U.G.C. The Commission also agreed to continue its assistance to the examination reform unit in the M.S. University of Baroda upto March, 1965.

9. Committee on Area Studies

A Committee was appointed under the Chairmanship of Shri B. Shiva Rao to examine the question of the development of area studies, i.e., studies in respect of history, culture, language, etc., of different countries and regions particularly for Eastern, middle Asian African and Latin American countries. The Committee made the recommendations that (i) regional studies of different parts of the world be introduced at the university stage; (ii) centres of area studies be set up in a few selected universities to start with; (iii) scholars might be selected for deputation to specific areas for a limited period to undertake intensive studies of the problems of the regions concerned; and (iv) priority might be given in the first instance to regions which India is more actively concerned, such as China, Japan, South-Eastern Asia, Africa and Middle East. These recommendations were generally accepted by the U.G.C.

10. Three-Year Degree Course

The University of Gujarat and Rabindar Bharati (Calcutta) introduced the three-year degree course in general education during the year under review. This course is now the accepted pattern for under-graduate education almost everywhere in the country except in the university of Bombay and the State universities of Uttar Pradesh. A total amount of Rs. 1.44 Crores (Rs. 0.75 crores as non-recurring and Rs. 0.69 crores as recurring expenditure) was paid to 28 Universities for the implementation of the scheme during the year.

11. Post Graduate Education

Under the scheme of providing financial assistance to selected Colleges for the development of post-graduate studies in humanities (including Social Sciences), grants amounting to Rs. 2.88 lakhs were sanctioned by the U.G.C. to 14 Colleges. As for the development of post-graduate studies in science subjects, an amount of Rs. 21.70 lakhs was released to various colleges for additional staff and development of library and laboratory facilities during the year.

12. Development Projects

On the recommendations of the Visiting Committee appointed by the University Grants Commission to scrutinise and assess the development schemes of universities, the Commission has so far allocated development grants amounting to Rs. 28 crores (approximately) to 49 universities including 3 institutions deemed to be universities. Grants amounting to Rs. 2.88 crores were sanctioned to 17 universities for the development of their existing post-graduate departments and establishment of new science departments. The Commission approved the establishment of post-graduate centres in 21 affiliated colleges and allocated a sum of Rs. 21.64 lakhs for the development of science departments in 19 post-graduate colleges.

13. Rural Institutes

During the year, two new Rural Institutes, one at Thavanu in Kerala and the other at Kasturba Sevagram, Indore (Madhya Pradesh) were set up. With their establishment, the target of establishing four new Rural Institutes during the Third Five Year Plan period has been achieved. Grants amounting to Rs. 16.01 lakhs were released to Rural institutes affiliated to the National Council for Rural Higher Education upto 31st December, 1963. Stipends amounting to Rs. 61,400 were sanctioned for the students of Rural Institutes.

14. Centres of Advanced Study

With a view to maintaining standards of higher education and also for raising the level of advanced studies in universities and colleges all over the country, 24 Centres of Advanced Study in selected departments of various universities have been set up—of which 14 were in Science and 10 in Humanities. During the year 1963-64, grants amounting to Rs. 164 lakhs were allocated to these Centres.

15. Professional Education

With a view to examining problems relating to the improvement of agricultural education, a review committee under the chairmanship of Dr. A. C. Joshi, Vice Chancellor, Punjab University was appointed by the U.G.C. in consultation with the Ministry of Food & Agriculture. The terms of reference of the Committee were—

- (a) to appraise qualitatively and quantitatively the existing facilities for teaching and research at under-graduate and post-graduate levels and to assess the extent to which research teaching and extension work could be integrated;
- (b) to lay down norms regarding staff, equipment, etc.;
- (c) to examine the syllabi of all the Universities in so far as they relate to agricultural education, in terms of model syllabus already prepared by the Indian Council of Agricultural Research, and to find out whether and how far it has been adopted by the various universities and further to elicit the reasons in case it has not been adopted and effectively implemented; and
- (d) to recommend measures for improvement in regard to curricula, teaching, examinations, research and extension work.

The Committee issued a questionnaire to the Universities and colleges to ascertain their views on the various issues.

On a reference from the Central Ministry of Education, the Commission appointed a Committee to examine the scope and standard of education imparted in Institutes of Rural Higher Education.

The U.G.C. accepted the recommendations of a Committee appointed to assess the requirements of the Medical College in Aligarh Muslim University. These recommendations, as suggested, related to (i) the progressive increase in the number of admissions, (ii) duration of the course to be 4½ years for preclinical and clinical studies and one year for compulsory housemanship before permanent registration, (iii) building up and equipping the hospital of the university and (iv) scale of pay for the teaching staff to be the same as already decided by the Commission. An on account grant of Rs. 5.33 lakhs was paid to the university for its medical college. The Commission decided, to assist the Banaras Hindu University for the construction of a students' ward of 32 beds in S. S. Hospital. A grant of Rs. 21.5 lakhs was paid to the university for its medical college.

17. Engineering & Technological Education

During the year under review, grants amounting to Rs. 113.89 lakhs were paid to 22 universities and one deemed to be university (Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore) for the development of engineering and technological education.

The All India Council for Technical Education at its annual meeting held on 8th December, 1963 recommended that in view of the large expansion of Technical education that has already taken place, our efforts and resources should be concentrated on consolidating the institutions and improving standards. The Council also recommended the establishment of four Regional Centres for the training of teachers for polytechnic. The scheme envisaged two categories of teachers to be trained viz. graduates for a period of two years and diploma holders for a period of three years. The scheme was approved by the Central Government who also offered to provide 75 percent of the expenditure incurred by State Government for the establishment of these training centres.

The College of Engineering & Technology Delhi, started in 1961, was incorporated as an institution of National Importance under the Indian Institute of Technology (Amendment) Act, 1963 and was renamed as the Indian Institute of Technology, New Delhi.

As recommended by the Committee on Post-Graduate Engineering Education and Research, Master's degree courses were reorganised at existing centres and several additional centres were selected for post-graduate studies.

The original target of 20,000 admissions to the first degree course as set in the Third Five Year Plan of Technical Education was reached in 1963-64, the number admitted during the year being 20,740. Because of the defence requirements and also because of an increasing demand for engineers and technicians, the physical targets have been revised to 25,000 admission to first degree course which was expected to be reached by 1965-66.

During 1963-64, because of the national emergency, no new college was started but a special scheme of expansion of existing institutions was undertaken. Under this scheme, the admission capacity of 60 colleges was increased in order to secure 2,659 additional seats. In addition, 23 colleges were also selected where special three year degree courses in engineering could be organised for graduates in science with 750 admissions per year. Seven centres actually started the courses in 1963-64.

The establishment of the National Institute of Training in Industrial Engineering Bombay, was undertaken with the assistance of the U. N. Special Fund in 1963-64. The institute when fully established will offer as many as 31 courses ranging in duration from 1 to 22 weeks in various fields each year for about 1,500 engineers and technicians sponsored by industry.

18. Correspondence Courses and Evening Colleges

Under the scheme of correspondence courses which started at Delhi University in 1962-63, a sum of Rs. 25,000 was sanctioned by the Central Government to the University Grants Commission for payment to the University of Delhi to meet expenditure on certain non-recurring items bringing the total amount sanctioned so far to Rs. 60,000. Procedural details for payment of grants to institutions to start Evening college were finalised and the scheme was being circulated to State Governments and Universities.

19. Teachers

During the year under review, U.G.C. paid grants amounting to Rs. 61.43 lakhs to the universities towards the revision of salary scales of colleges and university teachers. Of this, Rs. 36.25 lakhs was received by 21 universities for teachers of colleges under them, Rs. 16.57 lakhs by 26 universities for university teachers and Rs. 8.61 lakhs by 11 universities for technical teachers.

Travel grants amounting to Rs. 1.53 lakhs were paid to 37 universities to enable their teachers and research workers to visit and work at centres of research or advanced study. Under the scheme of providing grants to teachers to enable them to participate in academic conferences held abroad, the U.G.C. agreed to assist 29 teachers for the purpose.

Under the scheme of assisting outstanding teachers to continue their teaching research after superannuation, 49 teachers in the universities and 19 in colleges received the awards, thus bringing the total number of such beneficiaries to 135. A sum of Rs. 2.94 lakhs was paid as grants to the universities and colleges for disbursement to teachers concerned.

Under the scheme of financial assistance to teachers in universities and colleges for undertaking research or learned work in the humanities (including social sciences) and science subjects, 64 teachers in universities and colleges received financial assistance to the extent of Rs. 59,675.

Under the scheme of Exchange of Teachers, the Commission decided to give lump sum grants ranging from Rs. 10,000 to Rs. 15,000 to each university for inviting professors or experts from other centres of learning to deliver courses of lectures, conduct seminars and offer advice or guidance to research workers.

The question of improving the salary scales of college teachers was examined by the Committee dealing with collegiate education. The Committee recommended the further revision of these pay scales as under: Principals Rs. 700—40—1,100; Heads of Departments/Senior Lecturers Rs. 500—30—800 and Lecturers Rs. 300—20—600. This revision was also stressed by the conference of the principals convened by U.G.C. on May 8 and 9, 1964. The Commission accepted these recommendations and decided that the possibility of introducing these scales might be explored during the fourth Plan period.

During the year, approval was given for the construction of staff quarters in 20 universities at an estimated cost of Rs. 1.42 crores, the Commission's contribution being limited to Rs. 93 lakhs. Grants amounting to Rs. 25.54 lakhs were paid to the universities for the purpose. The construction of staff quarters was approved in 4 colleges at an estimated cost of Rs. 4.20 lakhs. In order to meet the serious shortage of accommodation for teachers, the Commission decided to assist the universities for the construction of two teachers' hostels, each accommodating 24 teachers at an estimated cost of Rs. 3 lakhs.

20. Miscellaneous Grants

A brief account of the grants paid by the University Grants Commission under some important schemes (other than those already mentioned in the preceding paragraphs) during the year 1963-64 is given below:—

A sum of Rs. 6.25 lakhs was paid to the universities for organising 22 seminars, 7 refresher courses, 20 summer schools and 8 conferences. Grants of Rs. 1.91 lakhs were paid under the scheme of centenary grants to concerned colleges. Grants amounting to Rs. 48.99 lakhs were paid to the universities and Rs. 22.64 lakhs to the colleges for the construction of hostels. Grants of Rs. 19.89 lakhs were also paid to the colleges for the improvement of library and laboratory facilities. An amount of Rs. 3.42 lakhs was paid to the universities for the construction of guest houses. Various universities were given grants amounting to Rs. 46.99 lakhs for the construction of hostels and Rs. 22.17 lakhs for library buildings.

Grants amounting to Rs. 1.93 lakhs were paid to universities for the publication of research works including doctoral theses in science subjects and humanities. A sum of Rs. 5.33 lakhs was paid to the universities for establishment or improvement of their printing presses. The universities of Calcutta and Baroda were sanctioned a non-recurring grant of Rs. 28,000 and a recurring grant of Rs. 47,000 for the introduction of a diploma course in museology. A sum of Rs. 82,591 was released to 28 universities for organisation of extension lecturers by university and college teachers. Grants amounting to Rs. 9.43 lakhs were awarded to the universities of Allahabad, Baroda, Calcutta, Madras, Patna and Poona for the development of the department of ancient history and archaeology. Grants amounting to Rs. 1.13 lakhs were paid to various universities for the development of studies in Linguistics. A sum of Rs. 58,900 was paid to 11 universities for the preservation and utilisation of manuscripts.

21. Scholarships and Fellowships

During the year under report, the U.G.C. awarded 239 research scholarships in humanities and science of Rs. 200 from each. A sum of Rs. 7.68 lakhs was paid to universities for disbursement to their scholars.

25 senior fellowships in humanities (including social sciences) and 26 in science subjects were awarded by the Commission to the tune of Rs. 2·66 lakhs. 69 junior research fellowships were awarded in science subjects and 53 in the humanities (including social sciences) and grants amounting to Rs. 2·74 lakhs and Rs. 4·97 lakhs respectively were paid for these fellowships. In addition, 30 research fellowships in engineering and technology were awarded each of the value of Rs. 400 and the total grant paid to the universities for these fellowships was Rs. 1·88 lakhs.

22. Foreign Exchange

During the year, foreign exchange of the value of Rs. 20·50 lakhs was made available to the University Grants Commission for helping universities and colleges to obtain the necessary science equipment, books, journals and other articles required for teaching and research, from abroad. Apart from this, foreign exchange of the value of Rs. 10 lakhs, was made available to the Commission for imports from East European countries on rupee payment basis. Out of this, exchange worth Rs. 9·39 lakhs was released to the universities and colleges. Foreign exchange of the value of Rs. 5 lakhs was also provided to the various universities direct by the Government of India for utilisation by them through blanket licences in order to meet their urgent requirements in respect of small items of equipment, spare parts, books and journals.

23. Foreign Aid Programmes

The Unesco's Scheme of giving assistance under their Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance for the development of centres of advanced study was continued during the year and a list of specialised equipment required by various centres estimated to cost $ 3,00,687 was forwarded to the UNESCO. Orders were placed for the purchase of this equipment and some of the items were received by the centres concerned.

Proposals for sending 21 Indian scientists for training abroad and for inviting 16 foreign specialists to Indian universities were accepted under foreign aid programmes. The services of two experts in Radio-Physics and Physical Metallurgy were made available under the Colombo Plan. Some ancillary equipment was also provided. The proposals of the universities of Banaras Hindu, Osmania, Panjab, Roorkee and Saugar were sponsored by the Commission for obtaining the services of foreign experts in various fields under the Colombo Plan. Under the Indo-Soviet Cultural Exchange Programme, three Soviet Scientists visited Indian universities for a period of three weeks to give lectures on special topics and discuss problems with teachers and research workers, while six Indian scientists were selected to visit the Soviet Union.

Under the scheme of Exchange of Scientists between India and Britain, one scientist from U.K. visited some Indian universities and one Indian scientist went to U.K. for advanced training in Electron Microscopy.

The United States P.L. 480 Programme of financing research project which related to agriculture and allied sciences was continued and 56 proposals were received from the university for the purpose by the U.G.C. During the year, a new scheme under the P.L. 480 programme was started in collaboration with the United States Agency for International Development, the National Bureau of Standards, U.S.A. and the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Department of Commerce, U.S.A., relating to assistance for research projects in Physical and Biological Sciences. Some research projects under this scheme were approved in 1963-64.

24. Student Welfare

The various schemes for the provision of necessary amenities to the students community in universities and colleges were continued. A brief account of these schemes during the year 1963-64 is given below:—

The University Grants Commission accepted the proposal of 2 universities and sanctioned a grant of Rs. 95,000 for the establishment of non-resident students' centres which were intended to provide facilities for rest, recreation and private study for day schools. An amount of Rs. 1.32 lakhs was paid to the universities for the construction of such centres during the year. Construction of 11 such centres in colleges at an estimated cost of Rs. 5.79 lakhs was also approved and an amount of Rs. 6.92 lakhs was paid to the colleges.

The Commission accepted the proposal of setting up students home in the universities, particularly big cities, at an estimated cost of Rs. 1.25 lakhs, the Commission's share being Rs. 1 lakh besides providing a suitable grant for library book. These homes will be expected to function as day hostels and library reading room and cafeteria.

Grants amount to Rs. 1.78 lakhs were paid to universities for the establishment of health centres. Under the scheme of Students Aid Fund, grants amounting to Rs. 13.37 lakhs were paid to students fund in 1,112 colleges and 20 universities.

During the year, the U.G.C. sanctioned the establishment of hobby workshops in 2 universities at an estimated cost of Rs. 1.65 lakhs, the Commission's share being Rs. 1.50 lakhs. A grant of Rs. 32,500 was sanctioned to one college for a hobby workshop to be established at a total estimated cost of Rs. 52,667. Assistance has so far been given for the establishment of 15 workshops in universities and 69 in colleges. During 1963-64, the grants paid on this account amounted to Rs. 1.76 lakhs.

The scheme of providing assistance to selected arts, science and commerce colleges for establishing text book libraries and enabling students to obtain text books for study on long term loan was extended to all arts, science and commerce colleges.

The Chapter concludes with a brief account of the activities of the universities during the year under review, with particular reference to new faculties, departments, courses and subjects started for the first time during the year.

AGRA

New under-graduate courses in Chemical Technology of (i) Oil (ii) Paints (iii) Food (iv) Plastics and (v) Bio-chemical Engineering (Applied Microbiology), as recommended by the Board of Studies, were adopted. Certain immediate modifications for Chemical Engineering Courses and M.Sc. (Tech.) were introduced. Statistics was included as a subject of study for B.A. Courses and Master of Statistics degree was instituted in the University. A new Three-Year Degree Course of B.Sc. (Technology) and M.A. Degree in Paediatrics was instituted.

ALIGARH

A separate Department of Sanskrit which hitherto formed part of the Department of Hindi was created. A new course in Indian Humanities for the degree and post-graduate courses and a post-graduate diploma course in Public Administration were instituted.

ALLAHABAD

A department of Psychology was newly started. A diploma course in Telugu and a one year post-graduate diploma course in Physics and a one-year post-graduate diploma course in Chemistry was also started.

ANDHRA

The department of History and Politics was bifurcated into two separate departments viz. department of History and department of Politics. The University started the new courses of M.Sc. in Chemistry with specialisation in Nuclear Chemistry, M.A. in Paediatrics, diploma in General Medicine and General Surgery, diploma in Dermatology, three-year B. E. degree for the benefit of B.Sc. (Pass), M.A. degree with branches III-B-Politics with specialisation in Public Administration, M.E. Degree in selected specialities under Civil, Electrical and Mechanical branches, D. Litt.

The following courses were revised: Pre-university, three year B.A., B.Sc. and B.Com. B.Sc.(Home Science), three year M.Sc. in Statistics and D.Sc.

Besides, duration of M.B.B.S. course was reduced from six to five and a half academic years with compulsory housemanship for twelve months in place of the post-examination training of six months after the final M.B.B.S. examination. The duration of M.Tech. Chemical Engineering degree courses was extended from eighteen months to two years. CHAPTER II
STATISTICAL SURVEY

Institutions

(A) Universities

The total number of universities in India increased to 61 in 1963-64. Apart from these, there were 5 'deemed to be universities'. However, the statistics of only 54 universities are presented here because of non-receipt of information from K. S. Darbhanga University and the new Universities. Also the statistics of the affiliated colleges of Indira Kala Sangeet Vidyalaya are not available.

Information on year of foundation or reconstitution of the universities, their territorial jurisdiction and type is given in Table I. Information about their faculties and the medium of instruction at different stages is also given in Table I. The distribution of universities according to type was as under—

Type	Number
Teaching and Affiliating	35
Residential and Teaching	16
Teaching and Federal	2
Affiliating only	1
Total	54

(B) Teaching Departments

The total number of teaching departments rose from 605 in 1962-63 to 662 in 1963-64. In the various universities, sixty-one new departments were added to different universities and three language departments of Rajasthan university were converted into one. These additional departments include some departments which were first reported in 1963-64 even though they were in existence from some time earlier. The university-wise details of the new departments are given below :—

University	Number of new Teaching Departments	Subjects
Aligarh	1	Sanskrit

PROGRESS OF UNIVERSITY EDUCATION

Of the 45 teaching departments in the 5 deemed to be universities, 26 were for general education and 19 for professional education—10 in Agriculture and 9 in Engineering and Technology.

(C) Colleges

The number of colleges maintained by or affiliated to the universities increased from 1,836 in 1962-63 to 2,013 in 1963-64 showing an increase of 9.6 per cent as compared to an increase of 4.7 per cent in the previous year. This increase was due to granting of new affiliations or of opening of 209 colleges during the year and the disaffiliation or closing down of 32 colleges. The disaffiliated colleges belonged to the universities of Delhi (1) and Poona (31). The above colleges of Poona were affiliated to Shivaji University.

The distribution of the 209 additional colleges was as follows:—

Name of University	Colleges added/ affiliated
Agra	8
Andhra	1
Bhagalpur	3
Bihar	1
Bombay	8
Burdwan	1
Calcutta	9
Gauhati	33
Gorakhpur	1

Total	209

Of the 2,013 colleges, 1,613 were affiliated or associated colleges and 400 were university/constituent colleges (Table II). The corresponding number in 1962-63 was 1,565 and 296 respectively. The distribution of the total number of colleges by management was as follows :—

Management	Number	Percentage
Government	539	26.7
University	149	7.4
Local Boards	9	0.5
Private	1,316	65.4
Total	2,013	100.0

Apart from these 2,013 colleges, there were 4 university/constituent colleges in the 5 deemed to be universities, all managed by the universities themselves.

The distribution of colleges by type of education is given below. The corresponding distribution for each university is given in Table III(B). Of the total of 2,013 colleges, 902 provided for general education which includes the study of arts, science, oriental learning, theology, home science, sociology, music, dancing, fine arts, etc.; 539 provided for technical and professional education which included institutions of commerce, education and the remaining 572 provided for general as well as professional education.

Type of College	Number of Colleges

General and Professional Education	572
Total	2,013

Of the 572 colleges for general and professional education, 150 had Arts subjects only; 18 Science subjects and 404 both Arts and Science subjects. 21 colleges taught Agriculture; 406 had commerce classes; 57 had Education; 78 had classes in Engineering and Technology; 41 had classes in Law; 81 had classes in Allopathy Medicine, and 2 in Nursing and one in Pharmacy; three colleges taught Veterinary Science, one Physical Education, 6 Library Science and eight colleges had courses in other professional subjects. The university-wise details are given in Table III (C).

Of the 4 colleges of the 'deemed to be universities', 3 provided for general education and one provided for professional education—the subject being 'Education'.

(D) Boards of Intermediate Education

Only one board, Board of High School and Intermediate Education, Uttar Pradesh, functioned during the year. This board functioned as examining body for intermediate and school examination. 1,086 colleges were affiliated to this board, of which 30 were also affiliated to some universities for degree courses. The distribution of 1,056 colleges by type is given below :—

Type of Colleges	Number
General Education	575
Professional Education	20

PUPILS

The total number of students in university teaching departments constituent colleges and colleges affiliated to universities and boards of intermediate education was 13,60,243 (11,05,413 boys and 2,54,830 girls) in 1963-64. The corresponding number in 1962-63 was 12,35,758 (10,17,281 boys and 2,18,477 girls). This gives an increase of 10·1 per cent (8·7 per cent in case of boys and 12·1 per cent in case of girls). The break-up of this enrolment by type of institutions is given below:—

Type of Institution	1962-63		1963-64
	Boys	Girls	Boys	Girls
University Teaching Departments	63,933	10,691	68,786	12,639
University/Constituent Colleges	1,89,648	50,562	1,76,859	52,516
Colleges/Classes affiliated to Universities	6,10,758	1,34,769	6,94,583	1,60,752
Colleges/Classes affiliated to Boards	1,52,942	22,455	165,185	28,923
Total	10,17,281	2,18,477	11,05,413	2,54,830

The above enrolment, however, excludes the enrolment in deemed to be universities, whose account has been given separately on page 24.

A detailed break-up of the enrolment by universities is given in Table IV.

Among the universities and their colleges, the largest enrolment was in Calcutta University (1,20,048), followed by Madras University (69,864), Kerala University (66,158), Punjab University (54,661), Agra University (54,570), Bombay University (54,402) and Gujarat University (54,008). The enrolment in Indira Kala Sangeet, Rabindra Bharati, Kalyani and U.P. Agriculture and Visva Bharati Universities was less than a thousand. The distribution of the universities by total enrolment groups is given below :

Enrolment Group	Number of Universities
Above a lakh	1
50,001—1 lakh	6
25,001—50,000	12
10,001—25,000	14
5,001—10,000	7
1,001—5,000	9
1,000 and below	5
Total	54

As compared to 1962-63, the enrolment, in 1963-64 increased in all the universities except Indira Kala Sangeet, Panjab, Patna, Poona, Udaipur Agricultural and Varanaseya Sanskrit Universities. The decrease in Poona and Panjab was due to disaffiliation of certain colleges from these Universities because of the establishment of Shivaji and Punjabi Universities. In other cases, the decrease was insignificant. Among the other universities, the largest increase was in Kerala University (11,643), followed by Madras (7,854), Vikram (7,496), Gujarat (7,491), Mysore (6,276), Karnatak (4,773), Utkal, (4,648), Saugar (4,600) and Rajasthan (4,414) universities. Of the remaining universities, the increase in enrolment was between 1,000-4,000 in 17, and less than 1,000 in 18 universities. Of the total enrolment of students, 1,94,108 were enrolled in institutions affiliated to the board of High school and intermediate education, U.P., for which the distribution of students by general and professional education was not available. Of the 11,66,135 students enrolled in university teaching departments and constituent and affiliated colleges, 8,50,908 (73.0 per cent) were enrolled for general education courses and the rest 3,15,227 (27.0 per cent) were enrolled for technical and professional courses. Among the 9,40,228 boys, 6,50,631 (69.2 per cent.) were for general education courses and 2,89,597 (30.8 per cent) were for professional and technical courses.

Girl students numbering 2,25,907 constituted 19·4 per cent of the total enrolment in universities and their colleges. Of these, 2,00,277 (88·7 per cent) were enrolled for general education courses and the remaining 25,630 (11·3 per cent) for professional education courses. Among professional education courses, medicine (allopathy) and teacher training continued to attract the largest number of girl students.

Apart from these, 1,698 students were enrolled in the five deemed to be universities and their colleges. Of these, 171 were girls, 1,297 boys and 59 girls were enrolled in the university teaching departments and the balance in constituent colleges. The distribution of these students by type of education and stages is given below :—

Intake in professional courses at the first degree level

Intake is defined as the optimum number of students who can be admitted to the first year of a course, according to the existing facilities. The data on intake is being given for the first time. This includes only professional education courses at first degree level. The data are not available from some of the universities. The university-wise details including deemed to be universities are given in table VI-A. In many universities, there is "no limit" for the intake in L.L.B. or B. L. courses and also for education/teachers training courses. This should be borne in mind while interpreting this data. The intake capacity at all India level for different professional courses is given below:—

Type of Courses	Intake capacities at first degree

The university-wise and subject-wise details are given in table IX.

Scales of Pay

Table X gives the university-wise scales of pay of lecturers, readers and professors. The disparities among universities and their colleges in the scales of pay of teachers of different levels persist. The scales of pay are not only uniform among the universities but these vary also from college to college within a university. Of the 55 universities, 31 universities have adopted the scales of pay recommended by the U.G.C. for lecturers, readers and professors in their teaching departments. Among the other universities, the minimum of the scales of lecturers was least (Rs. 200) in Bhagalpur, Magadh, and Ranchi. As regards readers, the starting salary was less than Rs. 500 in Ranchi, Magadh, Bhagalpur, Mysore and Annamalai Universities. The starting pay of professors in university teaching departments was less than Rs. 800 in Annamalai, Mysore, Saugar and Varanaseya Sanskrit Universities.

The scales of pay in vogue for lecturers in affiliated colleges for general education are given below. The maximum and minimum of all scales obtaining in different colleges under each university are given.
